They are willing to pay tripute to Turkey, and tc participate in the conference at Mostar, fearing Turkish influence.

Servian Neutrality.

LONDON, September 5.—A dispatch from Constantinople states that information has been received from Belgrade by the Turkish Government, and by foreign embassies, which relieves the apprehensions that Servia will, by her conduct, add to the complications of the Herzegovinian question. A solid agreement between the powers and Servian Government has been effected at Belgrade. Owing to the pressure brought to bear by the representatives of the former, Servia undertakes to restrain the party of action within her borders.

The Rebellion Subsiding.

CONSTANTINOPLE, September 5.—Server Pasha, in a telegraphic dispatch dated Mostar, to-day, states that many insurgents have submitted, and the agitation is greatly allayed. FLOODS IN THE WEST.

The Tracks of Several Railroads Under Water—Travel Almost Suspended—A Train Ditched in Iowa.

OMAHA, September 5.—The water rose all day yesterday in the Boyer river and Logan creek, on the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad, and the road bed is in many places three and four feet under water. No trains have passed over the road, but all passengers have been gotten off the damaged part of the road. The water also rose rapidly all day in Coon river and Walnut creek, on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific road. The track in many places is four feet under water, and the track badly damaged.

The Pacific express, en route West, was thrown into a ditch just east of Commerce, Iowa, twelve miles west of Des Moines, last evening. John Hughes, brakeman, fell between the cars and was instantly killed. Several persons were slightly injured. L. Miller, the baggage master, was injured by baggage falling on him.

The water in Walnut Creek is three feet higher than ever known before. West bound passengers are laid up at Commerce and Des Moines. The East bound train which left here last evening is laid up at Stewart, Iowa. Barnum's Hippodrome, which advertised to perform here to-morrow, is laid up at Grand Junction, Iowa. It is not thought possible for them to get here by any route. The C. & N. W. road has a contract for bringing them here on time. The C., B. & Q. train came in on time.

Helmbold Released from the Insane Asylum.

PHILADELPHIA, September 4.—Dr. Henry T. Helmbold, the well known druggist, was discharged from the Pennsylvania Insane Asylum, on a writ of habeas corpus, by Judge Elcock, the Judge holding that there was no occasion for his detention in such an institution, and stepping down from the bench, congratulated him upon his release. Dr. Helmbold's counsel, Clarence Derringer, proposes to bring a suit for damages against the asylum.

A Poor-House Scandal.

MEMPHIS, October 4.—For some days there has been considerable gossip in reference to the conduct of some officials at the County Poor-house, one of the inmates charging one of the physicians with making improper overtures to her, and afterwards discharging her because of her refusal to comply with his demands. It is also alleged that he kept a prostitute there as matron. The Commissioners to-day examined a number of witnesses, and will report their conclusions to the County Court.

BANK OF CALIFORNIA.

The U. S. Mint Indebted to the Bank—President Ralston's Defalcation—An Over-issue of Stock Discovered.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 4.—It has been reported that the Bank of California was largely indebted to the United States Mint here. The bank had been refining for the mint, and it was supposed that the indebtedness had been incurred through that channel. The Superintendent of the Mint states to-day that, on the contrary, the Mint owes the bank $125,000, payable on demand.

The Bulletin published an editorial this evening, in which, after referring to the course of that paper with regard to the Bank of California and Ralston, it says: When the Bank suspended, last week, we thought it our duty to protect, as far as possible, depositors and other creditors of that institution. We published just so many facts as we believed would best serve the purpose, and no more. We then said that the failure was owing to the mismanagement of the late President, and that this mismanagement was, in short, without the knowledge of the directors. For these statements we were soundly abused. The vicious press undertook to marshal all the corrupt elements against us. We were in the possession of facts which we could not state, because we were most anxious that the directors, if possible, should contrive some way of extricating themselves. We preferred to suffer the assaults of enemies rather than to give facts at a time when they might furnish a complete vindication of our attitude toward the bank, but might at the same time hinder, and possibly defeat plans which the directors were devising for the protection of the creditors of that institution. The directors, some of whom always have been staunch friends of the Bulletin, and are so now, have perfected their plans, and have settled on a basis of action whereby every creditor of the bank will be fully paid. We have full confidence both in the amity and in the good faith of these men. They will redeem their pledge, and may ultimately make the bank stronger even than the one which suspended. It was time that the Bulletin should be relieved from the secrets which it has been abused for keeping. We, therefore, proposed to ask the consent of the Board of Directors to relieve us from any further obligations to keep the secret of some facts within our knowledge. Having done our best to protect others, it is the part of our duty to protect ourselves. We are now authorized by D. O. Mills to say that the late President did, without the knowledge of the directors, use privately from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 of the bank's resources, which amount remains unpaid. This was the cause af the recent failure. Probably elsewhere this would have been set down as a defalcation. We are also authorized to say that there was an over-issue of stock, which over-issue has now been provided for. The particular use which was made of this large sum of money it is not our duty to mention. When this discovery was made, the connection of the late President with the institution was at once severed. Between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 of the money had gone out of the bank without the knowledge of a single director.

FIGHTING EDITORS.

Two St. Louis Journalists Take a Trip to Illinois to Fight a Duel—One Bloodless Shot Exchanged—One Demands a Second Shot, but the Other has Enough—Jeff. Davis the Cause of the Difficulty.

ST. LOUIS, September 4.—Major JNO. N. Edwards, one of the editors of the St. Louis Times, and Col. Emory S. Foster, editor of the Evening Journal, left here last night for Winnebago county, Illinois, to fight a duel. The affair has been kept very private, no one outside of the parties directly interested knowing about it until this afternoon, when it got on the street and became a subject of much comment. Major Edwards was accompanied by Colonel H. Branch, and Col. Foster by W. D. W. Barnard as seconds, and perhaps by other parties. The affair grew out of an editorial in the Times of August 24th, on the action of the citizens of Winnebago county in refusing to allow Jeff. Davis to speak at their fair, and a rejoinder by Foster in the Journal next day, in which he cast very severe strictures upon the writer of the Times article.

Later.—A dispatch to the Times from a member of the Edwards party says the duel took place at five o'clock this afternoon at a point five miles north of Rockford, in Winnebago county, and one shot was exchanged without effect, both parties firing too high, but making a line shot. Major Edwards demanded a second shot, but as under the agreement to fight a second shot could not be had unless demanded by both parties, and as Col. Foster considered he had given all the satisfaction required of him, he declined to join the demand for another shot, and the matter was settled without further difficulty. Both behaved splendidly. The weapons used were Colt's navy revolvers, at twenty paces. Major Edwards and friends, after leaving the field, went to Beloit, Wis., and will return home by way of the Iowa Central and North Missouri Railroads. The whereabouts of Col. Foster and party are not mentioned. Major Edwards was the challenging party in the affair.

THE MONTREAL RIOT.

Further Trouble Apprehended—Armed Men in the Cemetery—The Lives of Prominent Men Threatened.

MONTREAL, September 4.—Jas. Doutre, Q. C., has prepared an affidavit declaring the public peace threatened. This, with another affidavit of similar effect, has been submitted to a magistrate in order to procure the presence of a force of volunteers at the burial of Guibord, which is postponed until next week. Further trouble is apprehended, and with the ill-feeling on both sides, it will be fortunate if no more serious result follows the second attempt than succeeded the first. Some three hundred armed men are in the cemetery, waiting for the funeral. They have been there all night, and have blocked the Cote des Tergis road, demanding the name and business of travelers. The inhabitants round about feel much alarmed and have applied to the Government for police aid. Mr. Doutre today caused warrants to be issued against twenty of the ring leaders in the late riot, and it is now understood these will be prosecuted before the funeral takes place. B battery is ordered to concentrate here, and volunteers were last evening drilling. Doutre's life has been threatened, as also that of prominent members of the Institute Canadienne.

Another Railroad War.

ROCK ISLAND, ILL., September 4.—The Rock Island Argus this evening has the following: "On inquiry at the general office of the Rockford, Rock Island & St. Louis Railroad here, to-day, we learn that the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad Company and Chicago & Northwestern Company have terminated the favorable rates heretofore given the Rockford, Rock Island & St. Louis Railroad Company on freight for Chicago, and now charge full local rates. This, we hear, is the result of the injudicious course pursued by Mr. H. Ostanberg, the self-styled agent of the German bondholders, in attacking these roads, and falsely charging, in an interview procured by him and published in New York newspapers, that the Rockford had been run in the interest of the former roads. As the Rockford derives it chief earnings from Chicago freight, this action will leave it without the ability to earn its operating expenses."

A Catholic Bishop and a Priest at Loggerheads.

LOUISVILLE, September 5.—The recent changes in the Catholic Church of the Diocese of Louisville are a subject of much talk in the city and State. Rev. Father Lawrence Bax, pastor of St. John's Church, in Louisville, whom Bishop McCloskey removed to Bowling Green for insubordination, published a card to-day, defending himself and giving as a cause for the publication a desire to vindicate his character as pastor of St. John's. To-morrow Bishop McCloskey will publish a card, severely criticizing and condemning the remarks of Father Bax. Both parties will lay the case before the Pope ere long, messengers now being on the way to Rome.

Accident to Indian Superintendent Hoag.

MUSKOKEE, September 5.—As Enoch Hoag, Superintendent of Indian Affairs for the Central Superintendency, was returning to this place to-day from the grand council at Okmulgee, the team he was driving ran away, and his shoulder was dislocated, but he succeeded in getting into town, had the dislocation reduced, and left for his home in Kansas City by train this evening. Major G. W. Ingalls, of the Union Agency, will preside at the Okmulgee council in the absence of Mr. Hoag.

Catholic Electioneering in New Jersey.

PATERSON, N. J., September 5.—Ballots for the constitutional amendments election in New Jersey, next Tuesday, were circulated at the Catholic churches in this city to-day, with amendments one, two, eight and eleven crossed out. The erased amendments prohibit appropriations of public money and lands to private or sectarian purposes, guarantee a system of free public schools, and prohibit special legislation.

Brown, arrested in connection with the larceny of $47,000 from the Treasury, has deen adjourned till Tuesday, when the Judge will give his decision on a point raised by the counsel for the defence, that whereas Brown was arrested on an information charging him with stealing, the Government ought not to hold him for receiving stolen money.

POLITICAL RIOT.

A Republican Meeting in Mississippi Broken Up.

Three Negroes and Three White Men Killed.

Both Sides Arming for Another Fight.

VICKSBURG, September 4.—A difficulty occurred at a Republican meeting at Clinton, Miss., to-day. Three whites—Charles Chilton, of Clinton, Martin Silvey and Mr. Thompson, of Raymond, are reported killed. Three negroes were killed, and several whites and negroes wounded. No positive information is received regarding the origin of the conflict. About one hundred and fifty armed whites from this place and fifty from Edwards and Ballou arrived at Clinton this evening, to protect the town. The negroes are reported arming and threatening another fight.

Trade With South America.

Two Transportation Companies to Do Business Between St. Louis and South America—How They Propose to Do It.

ST. LOUIS, September 5.—A dispatch from Washington of a day or two ago, relating to the Postoffice Department agreeing to send mails to Rio Janeiro by the Mississippi Valley and Brazil Steamship Line, contained errors which it is thought proper to correct. The company is a St. Louis enterprise, and has its headquarters here, but will start its steamers from New Orleans, freight for them being shipped from here or Cairo by the Mississippi Valley Barge Line. The first steamer is expected to leave for Rio Janeiro on the 1st of November, instead of October. The company is soliciting a cargo for this steamer from various points in the Mississippi Valley, and has assurances of freight from Louisville, Cincinnati, Detroit and other places in the West.

Another enterprise of this character, called the Mississippi Valley and Orinoco Trading Company, was recently incorporated here, and organized with some of our most active and enterprising merchants as its officers. This company will start a sailing vessel from New Orleans for the valley of the Orinoco river, in South America, touching at all intermediate points, probably next month, with an assorted cargo, and bring back a freight of coffee and South America products as are most salable in this country. This is intended as an experiment and a venture, and if it proves successful, the company will increase its stock, put on a line of steamers, and build up an extensive trade between the two countries. Both these enterprises are meeting with much encouragement from merchants and manufacturers, and their prospects for the speedy opening and establishment of a large and remunerative trade between this valley and South America is very flattering.

THE CREEKS IN COUNCIL.

A New Constitution to be Considered—Wild Indians in Attendance as Visitors.

OKMULGEE, CREEK NATION, September 5.—The Grand Council of the Indian Territory is in session. There is a full attendance from nearly every tribe in the territory. An extra delegation as visitors from the Kiowas, Comanches and other wild tribes from the plains was present. The Council will make an appropriation for their subsistence, hoping they will be induced to enter into more intimate and friendly relations through the influence of the more civilized Indians they will meet. The only business to be considered is the new constitution, providing for a Governor of the territory, United States Courts, and a Delegate in Congress, which will probably pass this Council, but with a proviso that it be submitted to the National Council for approval. The Council proposes to adjourn in a body to attend the International Fair to be held at Muskogee from September 14th to 18th.

MESSRS. ANDERSON & WOODS have orders sufficient to run some departments of their works a number of months. When it is known that the capacity of these works, as well as most all of our steel manufactories, has been greatly increased the past year, this is very encouraging. Messrs A. & W. have other important inprovements of their works in progress.

MESSRS. ALEXANDER SPEER & SONS are manufacturing largely the Hall Patent Potato Digger this season. It has been successfully in use for some years, but important improvements have been made in it recently, and it is now said to be the most complete digger in the market.

THE BALL AND BAT.

Items Caught on the Fly.

The game of ball on Saturday between the lawyers and reporters resulted again in favor of the former, by a score of 24 to 15, not so heavy as in the previous match. But seven innings were played, as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Legal	2	3	3	0	4	1	11	—24
Press Gang	2	0	4	0	0	3	6	—15

The following score by innings shows how the game at Braddock's Fields, on Saturday, between the Braddock and Sewickley clubs ended:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Braddocks	3	1	1	0	0	2	0	1	2	—10
Sewickley	0	1	0	0	0	3	1	0	0	— 4

The Iron City and East End clubs play this afternoon, at Torrens' Station, on the P. R. R. The last game between these clubs was won by the latter.

In the game at Wheeling, on Saturday, the Standards, of that place, defeated the Washington club by a score of 15 to 14.

The Xantha club will not accept the challenge of the Downers for a match this week. In fact, the Allegheny boys have concluded to rest on their oars for a week, until four of their players—Curry, Guise, Wilkinson, and Lane—who have recently been injured, are in better condition.

The oil men invaded the diamond field at East Liberty on Saturday and the "Sellers" and "Buyers" fought nobly. After a long and wonderfully exciting contest the "Sellers" beat the "Buyers" by a score of 34 to 27. In the oil region the result was anxiously awaited, and when it was telegraphed there the oleaginous fluid commenced going up and when last heard of was still on the ascendancy. It is said in some quarters that Saturday's match was a shrewd game to get control of the market, and that the Union, Karns and Atlantic, but more particularly the Wind pipe lines, are seriously affected by it.

The Pittsburgh police nine have accepted the challenge of the Allegheny Knights of the Mace and will name the day for the game some time this week.

The Torley base ball club, named in honor of John J. Torley, of the Fire Commission, has been organized in the East End. POLITICAL.

The Primaries on Saturday—The Meetings To-morrow.

Republican primary meetings were held —or authorized to be held—throughout the county on Saturday afternoon for the purpose of selecting delegates to the convention to nominate a candidate for the office of County Treasurer. It has been thought best to put in nomination a candidate for this office, and leave the legal questions involved to be settled in the future by the Court. There was little or no interest manifested in the primaries on Saturday, and the vote polled was insignificant. The regular forms were gone through with, however, and everything so far as heard from was conducted squarely. The Convention will meet to-morrow morning. There have been so few returns received that it is impossible to predicate a result. The Convention, however, promises to be harmonious and happy.

The Republican County Executive Committee will meet to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock in the rooms of the Young Men's Republican Club, Allegheny. As this is the regular session of the Committee a full attendance is desired.

FOILED.

Burglars Again at Erwin's Dry Goods Store in Allegheny—Frightened Off Without Securing Any Booty.

On Saturday morning, about two o'clock, officer Thomas, of Allegheny, discovered that one of the front doors of A. W. Erwin's dry goods store, on Federal street, above the Diamond, in Allegheny, was standing wide open. He at once called Lieutenant Campbell and officer Mitchell to his assistance, and proceeded to make an examination of the store for the burglars, but they failed to find them, and found that nothing had been disturbed. About fifteen or twenty minutes before the door was discovered, officer Thomas had passed there, and the door was then closed and all right. It is supposed that the burglars had seen him pass, and after he had turned the corner, had forced the door open, but his reappearance so soon again, disturbed them and they hastily retreated before he approached.

The Committee on General Church Extension, Dr. W. Collier, chairman, reported. This is a new feature in the denomination, introduced by the last General Conference. The object is to assist in church building, by loaning them money on suitable security. The committee recommended earnest co-operation. A letter from A. H. Widney, Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Church Extension, was read, urging co-operation and speaking hopefully of the work. The committee advised instead of public collections each pastor carry a book and privately solicit donations, and if he cannot attend to it himself that he secure lady agents to attend to it for him. Report adopted. The hour of eleven o'clock having arrived the order of the day, reports on spiritual condition was resumed. Wm. Collier called, reported, though superannuated he had preached quite regularly during the year, is hopeful and happy.

Hazelet, layman, corroborated the statements of his pastor in reference to Cherry Tree pastorate, and said he himself is advancing in Christian joy. John Hodgekinson, W. Va., says his pastorate is in good condition, and himself happy in the Master's cause. Z. Ragan, Chaplain U. S. A., fifty-three years in Christ, about fifty years in the ministry, though not always entirely devoted to ministerial work, yet always active, and in hope of eternal life. J. Gregory, Connellsville, Pa., reported himself trusting in God and trying to do his duty; Connellsville church is in good condition. Delegate Johnson confirmed the statements of his pastor. M. Lee, pastor ——, reported eighteen years in Christ, about nine years in the ministry; his charge in ordinary condition. E. A. Brindley, pastor at Liverpool, O., said sometimes he felt discouraged that he was not more useful, but he presses on; his charge in pretty good condition. J. B. McCormick, twenty-one years in the ministry, is hopeful, expecting eternal life; his charge not in as good condition as it might be; growing and strengthening. Dr. J. J. Murray, Pittsburgh First church, said he is hoping in Jesus, trusting in Jesus, and trying to be like Jesus; his charge is vigorous, with room for improvement, he is hopeful.

Wesley Smith, of M. E. church, introduced and spoke briefly. He is publishing books to which he invited attention presenting several copies for examination and sale. The morning session closed after doxolgy and benediction by J. Smith.

Afternoon Session.

Opened by Bible lesson, song and prayer by S. F. Crowther. Committee on College Interests, J. Gregory Chairman reported a good strong paper in favor of Education, Eulogizing, Adrian College, its faculty, and agents, and urged the members of the Conference to make liberal efforts in behalf of the educational interests of the denomination, recommending that in making centenary contributions the interest of our educational institutions be kept prominent. "Expenses Paid."

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5, 1875.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

The following communication appeared in the Sunday Leader of yesterday. The writer should have added to his article the fact that Messrs. Slagle and Graham, members of the Board, to their credit be it recorded, voted against this disreputable business.

B.

"The readers of Saturday morning's daily papers will have observed that the Board of Health of this city has at last succeeded in getting a quorum; and they will also have observed that among other important business transacted was the following resolution offered by Dr. Asdale, viz: That the Board appropriate $100 to defray the expenses of the delegates of the Pittsburgh Board of Health to attend the meeting of the National Health Association, which convenes at Baltimore, in November next.

"Perhaps this city will receive one hundred dollars worth of sanitary benefit, and our taxpayers will consider the amount invested cheap. No doubt our delegates will be able to 'give or take' large supplies of knowledge on the great question of sanitary 'reform,' and that our citizens will never regret the trifling expense.

"The calling of the yeas and nays on the resolution was appropriate, and as a satisfactory matter for reference will be appreciated.

MONT CALM."

SUNDAY MORNING STABBING.

A Bar Tender Hacked up on Fifth Avenue—Two Printers His Assailants—Arrest of all the Parties.

At an early hour yesterday morning Chas. Bowers, a bar tender, and Mike McGarity and Charles Kise, printers, got to quarreling in a Smithfield street dive, and as all of them were to a certain extent under the influence of liquor the bad feeling engendered by the dispute was not allayed by the potations they had indulged in. Between three and four o'clock they got on Fifth avenue, in front of the Post-office, and their quarrel terminated in a fight, which ended rather seriously for Bowers, who was cut in some twelve or fifteen places. McGarity is credited with being the chief stabber, and as having done more execution with his knife than Kise. The parties were all arrested by Officer Pat. Kennedy and taken to the Central Police Station. Bowers bled profusely, leaving behind him a trail of gore which extended from the Custom House to the station, and which told the Sunday morning pedestrian and church goer that a bloody affair of some kind had marked that locality before day break. Dr. McCoy, Police Surgeon, was at once sent for, and after making an examination of Bowers he ordered his immediate removal to his lodgings at the St. Clair Hotel, saying that the loss of vital fluid he had sustained was just about as much as any man could recover from. The severest wound inflicted on Bowers is on the head, near the temple, where an artery was severed, and from which the greatest loss of blood occurred. His face is all hacked up and there are a number of cuts on his body. Some of them are long and deep, some are trifling and others look as though the knife had been stuck in him and then turned round, just hacking out a circular piece of flesh. Captain Wooldridge says the man must have bled nearly a gallon after being brought into the station. And yet with all these holes in him, Bowers is said to be in no danger of death directly from them. The loss of the precious life current is what will cause fatal consequences, should they follow, but it is thought he will come around all right. McGarity also has an ugly cut across the forepart of one of his arms, which was inflicted by Bowers. It is not known whether Kise was prominent as a stabber or not, but his presence in the company of those who were so actively engaged in it was sufficient to warrant his arrest. The cutting was all done with pen-knives—one being found on the street, covered with blood, and another, also steeped in gore, on the person of McGarity. Bowers, whose name is also reported to be Sam. English, it is said, will not prosecute either of the men who attacked him; but even if he does not, it is not likely that Mayor McCarthy will allow them to go unpunished.

SWALLOWING HER TEETH.

A Singular Accident—A Remarkable Operation—A Woman Saved From Death.

About 11½ o'clock on Saturday night Mrs. Hoehn, wife of Mr. Wm. Hoehn, a plasterer residing on Second street, Third ward, Allegheny, between Madison avenue and East street, was playing with her little child. While so engaged, she suddenly threw her head back when a small silver plate containing four upper teeth in her mouth suddenly became detached and lodged in her throat. The silver plate mentioned was about one and one-fourth inch long and about one inch wide with ragged sharp edges, at the end of which were fastened four teeth. In the hurry and excitement ensuing, a member of the the family tried to force the obstacle down the suffering woman's throat so as to bring it into the stomach. The plate holding the teeth, however, was too wide, and moreover, the sharp edges caught in the sides of the oesophagus a short distance from the stomach, from which lodgment it could not be moved. The poor woman suffered intense pain, as the obstacle cut the oesophagus so badly that she commenced spitting blood, and it also pressed so tightly against the windpipe as to almost prevent her from breathing. Dr. Herman Hechelmann was immediately called, and took along some of his delicate instruments, which are rarely used but in the most important cases. When he reached the house of his patient, she was almost dead. The Doctor went to work immediately, and by the aid of these new and important instruments, could see into the patient's throat so as to see the point of the silver plate lodged in the oesophagus. As soon as he discovered the location he inserted a delicate pair of pinchers and catching hold of the plate he drew forth—nothing, the instruments having slipped. The poor woman became unconscious, and, to all appearances, dead. Doctor Hechelmann, however, resuscitated her and made another trial, and, after great difficulty, succeeded in bringing forth the cause of all the disaster. Yesterday morning the patient was still spitting blood, but all danger has passed, and in a few days she will be as well as ever again.

Dr. Hechelmann deserves great praise for the coolness that he displayed in such a critical case, to which coolness the success of the operation is mainly attributable. In our recollection only one similar operation has been attempted here heretofore, but without success, the patient dying a few days after.

CRIME IN THE CITY.

Brief Mention of Minor Offences and Petty Criminalities.

"MART" HAZEN, arrested for stealing a watch from one Collins, had a hearing on Saturday before the Mayor, and in default of $300 bail was committed for trial.

JOHN LILLICH was committed to jail Saturday by 'Squire Conrad, of Lower St. Clair township, on a charge of attempting to commit arson. Hugo Schilling was the prosecutor.

WILLIAM alias "Piggy" McAuliff, who was arrested on Friday night by Detective O'Mara, was committed on Saturday to await trial for being concerned in the Donovan–White duel.

EUGENE MCAFEE, Pat Reardon and Wm Porter, all boys, were arrested yesterday for playing cards on Sunday. This is a very moral city. Boys taken up for card playing, and dozens of saloons allowed to sell liquor on the Sabbath unpunished. The police know of open saloons, but never return them.

DAVID, alias "Piggy" McKee was arrested on Saturday night for disorderly conduct on Penn street, in front of the Ninth ward market house. Jesse Barker in attempting to rescue him was also taken in, and yesterday morning the Mayor gave him a thirty day Claremont ticket. McKee has not yet been disposed of.

THE Mayor had sixty-one cases before him yesterday morning, the number being unusually large. Sallie Green, Daniel McIntyre, John Gorman, Henry Wilson, John Shoy, Ed. Bradford and Jesse Barker were sent up for one month for disorderly conduct. George Bell, for a like offense, paid a fine of ten dollars and costs.

JAMES PORTER and an Alleghenian named Carter originated a terrible fight on Saturday night on Penn avenue, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, in which Porter had a part of his nose bitten off by Carter. The police were absent at the time, taking two other notorious characters to the station, or the rowdies would doubtless have been arrested.

Iron City College, corner Penn avenue and Sixth street, now in session. Students received at any time. For circulars call or address J. C. Smith, A. M., Principal.

BONDS at Frankfort, new 5s, 100⅜.

GOLD closed in New York Saturday at 114⅜.

THE death of Ralston is ascribed by the Coroner's jury, to congestion of the vital organs, and accidental drowning.

THE present week will be marked by the opening of the Expositions at Cincinnati, Chicago and other points. Vast preparations for the opening ceremonies are in progress.

THE cabinet makers have opened up a new scent. Postmaster General Jewell is the one now marked to go,—but so far from being worried over it, he declares he will gladly welcome his successor and retain his personal friendship for the President.

THE Primaries on Saturday were exceedingly quiet, indicating very trifling interest in the contest in progress. There is a measure of doubt as to the legal status of this Treasurership question, which goes far toward withdrawing interest from it.

THE Herzegovinian insurrection is on the vane. The Sultan of Turkey has appointed a commission to ascertain and rectify abuses. All evils of former administration are to be promptly rectified, and all occasion for dissatisfaction removed. If this policy is really carried out, it may result in quietude and peace.

CHICAGO is getting ready for the coming of Moody and Sankey. Noonday prayer meetings are being held, and much religious feeling is said to be aroused in anticipation of the coming of the great Revivalists. This method of preparing and inviting is suggestive to those in our midst who desire the presence of these very successful Christian workers.

GOVERNOR HARTRANFT and Adjutant General Latta review and inspect our militia to-day, in Friendship Park. The Governor arrived on Saturday evening, and the review takes place at the early hour of nine this morning. In the Western part of the State our militia has been improving in organization and drill. The Governor is very popular generally among our home soldiery.

IF IT shall prove, as seems altogether likely, that the assets of the Bank of California exceed the liabilities, and that the management of its affairs was right and proper, it will occasion severe reflection on the Board of Directors for their harsh treatment of Ralston. It now seems evident that he did not commit suicide, but died of congestion. Nevertheless, the course pursued by him was occasioned, evidently, by the treatment bestowed upon him.

THE past week has been the most encouraging, in reference to our forthcoming Industrial Exposition, we have had since the project was developed. The space is largely taken, and enough is known as to the variety and character of the display to warrant the assurance that as an Exposition it will be a brilliant success. The special features, some of which have been advertised, are attracting general attention,—but the managers are holding back from mention many novel features, which, when seen, will afford an agreeable surprise.

THE enterprising spirit which presides over the Pennsylvania Railroad management is not disposed to rest quietly under the plan to send a fast mail train West by the New York Central Railroad, and has prepared a schedule for an equally rapid mail train to certain Western cities by its own line. This movement toward the rapid transportation of mails is one of the features of the times; and Colonel Scott is not disposed to sit indifferently by and allow his road to be beaten. The Pennsylvania Railroad is up with the latest improvements.

THE time is at hand when the Democracy will open their hand and show us what they have to offer, both as regards candidates and platform. Ross or Bigler, it is conceded, will be selected for their Gubernatorial standard-bearer, and the way Wallace is hedging leads us to think that Bigler is the coming man. So far, well. Of their platform, all the indications point to the adoption, substantially, of the Ohio platform, and an attempt to fight the canvass on the financial issue. The policy of abusing Hartranft cannot be pursued this time, and it is correctly reported that even their hard money men East favor an inflation plank in the platform, not that they mean to abide it, but as a catch-word for the people. Of all this we do not need to speak now; when we have their work before us will be the time to analyze and dispose of it.

THE opening of the Edgar Thomson Steel Works, noticed at length in our local columns, marks an era in the manufacturing business of Allegheny county. It is a marvelously complete establishment, and the first for the manufacture of Bessemer steel rails in our county. The works were erected under the general supervision of A. L. Holley, a civil engineer of very fine reputation, both in this country and Europe. The entire outlay on the works is about $850,000, ond the full capital stock will be about $1,500,000. To raise and expend so large a sum, right in the pressure of these times, shows both grip and energy worthy the manufacturers of Allegheny county. A noticeable feature of the works is the perfect smoothness with which the machinery worked at the outset. It was remarked by old manufacturers that they had never witnessed its equal in this respect.

EX-SECRETARY WELLES is full of the history of the Navy during the war. He is a great rectifier of history. His present interest is in proving that Porter, and not Farragut, captured New Orleans. The truth of history and the reputation of the respective heroes may be involved in all this; but is it not a little singular that the rectification of so important an event should have been left so long. While Farragut was yet alive, to defend himself,—for this is of the nature of a personal assault on him,—and the incidents of the capture of New Orleans were yet fresh, was the time to rectify anything that might be wrong. It is rather a suspicious transaction to call it up at this late date. The prize courts certainly adjudicated the distribution of prize money on the theory that Farragut captured the city, and we are confident that Porter received but little consideration there. As to his being ignored, we never heard of any one who had the slightest desire to undervalue or ignore Admiral Farragut's claims. The ex-Secretary has evidently undertaken a difficult task when he seeks to becloud the reputation of Farragut in the interest of Porter.

MANY and devious are the ways of politicians! The Democratic Enquirer, of New York, affirms that the Tribune and World of that city, for reasons best known to themselves, have joined in the enterprise of aiding Tilden toward the Presidency; and that a part of the game is to make the work of the Erie Democratic Convention unpopular, in order that Sam. Randall may lose the Speakership, and thus be out of Tilden's way in the Presidential struggle. They join to do good that evil may come. The trouble is, that Salary-Grab Sam, once in the Speaker's chair, may distance Reform Tammany in the race for the Presidential nomination; hence Salary-Grab is to be beaten even if, in doing it, the Democratic party in Pennsylvania is put under. Possibly the thought is that this has been done so often that once more will make the smallest possible difference. We beg to assure them that the defeat of the candidate of the Erie Convention will come anyhow, and no combinations are essential to that end. But how illustrative is all this of the desperate character of the fight in progress. Tilden is struck with the Presidential fever, and helps or binders reforms, or corrupts, punishes or pardons,—as one or other will help him along. Still, we have no objection to his practicing on our Salary-Grabbers.

THE CALIFORNIA PANIC.

Detailed reports received with the San Francisco papers give a clear and perfect insight into the bank failures there. It is noticeable that this panic came within a little of the same period in the year that the Jay Cooke panic did; and this fact gives strength to the statement made by Ralston and others that the grain moving had much to do with it. That is, from $4,000,000 to $6,000,000 in gold had been paid to farmers for wheat, and thus, for the time being, withdrawn from circulation. Some $10,000,000 were East for speculative purposes, and then the run came. This was, like all panics, peculiar. Ralston declared that while the run had actually been in quiet progress all the morning, he did not observe it till about one o'clock,—and by two the bank was crowded. How suspicion is engendered and spread, none can tell, and yet there seems an intuition among the people, that leads them to know when a bank can be no longer trusted. The essential fact, however, is that the gold supply was unequal to the extraordinary demand, partially born of the wheat movement.

The exact difficulty that caused the disastrous panic in California must and will attend any effort to manage the business of this country on an inelastic currency. The strain comes at the crop moving season, and cannot be accurately provided for in advance. The present season illustrates this point. In the early part of the season,—up to the very time for harvesting wheat,—the heavy rains led to uncertainty as to the extent and quality of the crops. The probable foreign demand was affected by the same conditions. Suddenly it became known that England must draw largely upon us, and the demand westward for the California supply was also unexpectedly large. The price went up, and the farmers eagerly sold. The result was an absolute drain of gold,—an inelastic currency, and the panic. It simply proves that we are liable to a panic with gold for currency, just as readily as with paper currency. Indeed, with an elastic and well-secured paper currency, we are safer as against panics, than we can be with silver and gold.

Let us broaden and illustrate this. The amount of currency necessary to manage the business of this country, when in full career, is well ascertained. The $750,000,000 of paper currency of all kinds and $150,000,000 of gold we had were just sufficient for the regular business of the country during the Spring and Summer of 1873. A volume equivalent to $900,000,000 is, then, essential to the management of business in full volume. A heavy crop, or an active wheat market, requires more, for the reason that money paid to farmers is usually a long while in finding its way back to the banks; and it is while it is thus locked up, particularly, that the strain is felt. The California wheat crop took $5,000,000 from the market, hence the entire wheat and wool crops, which make their drain at one time, will take not less then $25,000,000 out of circulation, being but half of the amount actually drawn upon. We have only to remember the distress occasioned by the withdrawal of $44,000,000 from circulation, when McCulloch was Secretary of the Treasury, to realize the terrible pressure the sudden withdrawal of $25,000,000 would occasion in active times.

The theory of the forced-resumptionists is, that with $200,000,000 additional gold we can resume. This involves the idea of $300,000,000 of greenbacks, the gold being merely the assurance of specie payments, and intended to force greenbacks to par. The actual circulating medium will be greenbacks. We must assume, however, that those who seek specie resumption mean it. We will, then, have about $360,000,000 gold for the business of the country. The merest tyro in finance knows that this cannot bear the strain of the sudden emergency that will be put upon it. If, however, the reply be made that we aim only at a basis, for a greenback and national bank note circulation, we have only to say, is not the existing basis good enough? If we must use paper money, is it not a sufficient basis to have the credit and good faith of the nation? Greenbacks, on this basis, stood the test of a fearful panic,—is not this enough? If gold cannot be had for actual use—as it cannot, is it wise to discredit the good faith of the nation in the interest of gold. Better discredit gold than the good faith of this great nation.

In offering these suggestions, we do not mean to imply that specie payments should not be an ultimate aim; on the contrary, we think it should be. But we object to the persistent attempts to discredit what we have, in the way of currency, in the interest of a plan to force specie payments. It is an old adage that we should praise the bridge that carries us safe over, and it applies in the currency issue now upon us. We fully realize that we need worst of all, a system that will revive industry, and supply the people with labor; and were the resumption feature dropped from the law of last Winter, we would have all the monetary legislation that we need till the country, by its recuperative energies, grows naturally up to specie resumption. The special lesson, therefore, of the California panic is, that gold is not a reliable god to serve, even as regards the stability of business.

Russian Iron and Manufactures.

A report presented to the Technical Society of St. Petersburg shows that a large portion of the manufacturing establishments of Russia are in the hands of foreigners. In the district of St. Petersburg, foreigners own 28 out of 32; in the province of Moscow 22 out of 47; in the district of Vistula 6 out of 14, and in the Baltic provinces 21. There are 167 works in Russia for the construction of engines, exclusive of the Imperial establishments, and three-fourths of these make locomotives and other railway plant. Large numbers of the locomotives used on Russian railways are nevertheless made in this country. The 167 establishments mentioned above use engines of over 6,000 horse power, and employ 41,382 workmen. They consume yearly 138,000 tons of pig iron, 164,898 tons of wrought iron, and 127,000 tons of fuel. The iron works of the Ural alone produce 70 per cent. of all the pig iron obtained in Russia, but there is room for many more iron works in that region, especially since the discovery of large coal fields within railway distance of them.

PERSONAL.

A NIECE of President Van Buren, 79 years old, is an inmate of the Hudson county (N. J.) almshouse.

THE President has appointed R. Holland Duell, of New York, Commissioner of Patents, vice Thatcher, resigned.

LAUNT THOMPSON, the sculptor, is now living in Paris, but intends to spend the Winter in Rome and Florence.

THE Prince of Wales will be invested with the Grand Cross of the Star of India during his stay in that country.

GEN. SPINNER has returned to his old home in Mohawk, Herkimer county, where he expects to reside permanently.

DURING the one hundred and seventy-five years of its history, Yale College has had only ten Presidents. Mr. Woolsey occupied the chair twenty-five years.

THE tramp nuisance is being vigorously dealt with in Jersey. No effort certainly ought to be spared to root out this growing evil. If the tramp class will not work for an honest living it is better they should be sent to jail.

THE HON. T. A. Hendricks, in his speech to the Ohio Democrats, declared himself in favor of a sound and stable currency, but took good care not to explain too minutely what he meant by a "sound and stable currency." He is opposed to contraction and to inflation, and would, in fact, like to be on both sides of the fence at once.

MR. JOHN J. GEGHAN, the author of the Geghan law, which has given rise to the sectarian strife in the Ohio canvass, was renominated for the State Legislature by the Democrats, the other night, in Cincinnati. The Enquirer is alarmed at the capital this renomination will furnish the Republicans, and comes out in a leader, "repudiating Geghan in the name of the Democracy of Hamilton county," because his nomination is an "insult to every intelligent voter," since it is an open boast of an alliance between the Catholic Church and the Democratic party.

GENERAL SHERMAN sends this characteristic reply to an invitation to attend the soldiers' reunion at Rockville, Ind.: "I am just back from a small swing around the circle, so that I am free to make appointments. I find an unusual number of invitations to attend army reunions, and as yours occurs earliest, I think I am safe in promising to spend September 6 and 7 at Rockville. I prefer that you should make no display about me, but let me reach you first and easy. I can find my way there, probably, alone, and am sure that we can put in the time pleasantly enough."

M. ROBING, an eminent French chemist, announces to the French Academy of Medicine his belief that life exists only in combustion, but the combustion which occurs in our bodies—like that which takes place in chimneys—leaves a detritus which is fatal to life. To remove this he would administer lactic acid with ordinary food. This acid is known to possess the power of removing or destroying the incrustations which form on the arteries, cartilages and valves of the heart; and, as buttermilk abounds in such acid, and is, moreover, an acceptable sort of food, its habitual use, it is urged by Robing, will free the system from these causes which inevitably cause death between the 75th and 100th year.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

A BRIDGE on the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago Railroad, near Bedford, Indiana, was burned last Friday night.

THE funeral services over the remains of Pietro Vaini, who committed suicide on Long Island on Tuesday, were held on Friday afternoon.

"WHEN I put my foot down, I'll have you to understand" said Mrs. Nojoker, "that there's something there." On investigation, it was found to be a No. 11 shoe.

THE Cleveland taxpayers are considerably buffeted over their Mayor's extravagance in adorning his office with an elegant three hundred and fifty dollar sideboard.

NO LESS than thirty tons of salmon were expressed to the Saratoga hotels this season. But then we must remember how many newspaper correspondents had to be supplied with their fish diet daily.

WILLIE, youngest son of W. C. Depauw, a well known resident of New Albany, Indiana, while loading a pistol last Friday evening, shot himself through the heart. He was alone at the time, and when the family found him he was lying on the floor, dead.

WHEN they came to examine the hull of the Great Eastern they found 52,000 square feet of iron plate incrusted with mussels, in some places to a thickness of six inches. The total weight of these incumbrances was estimated at 300 tons, enough to load two brigs or thirty freight cars.

WHILE a lion-tamer in a circus at Des Moines was performing and putting his head inside the animal's extended jaws, the brute closed them with a snap. There was great commotion for a short time among the showmen and spectators, but the man was released from his peril with only a badly cut face.

THE Franklin Repository thinks that the Republicans have only to close up the ranks and do their duty "to march forward to victory under the banner of our gallant leader, Hartranft. Enemies have assailed him, but their darts have always fallen harmless at his feet. As he stood the fire of the enemy at Fort Steadman unharmed, so will he pass through the present ordeal unscathed."

A NOVEL entertainment was recently given at Cape May by Rev. Dr. Newman, ex-chaplain of the United States Senate. A complete Japanese tea set was spread on the floor, and the guests sat round in the Japanese custom. Four ladies were attired in elaborate Japanese costumes, and tea of the superior quality that is only used by the Emperor and Mandarins was served in dainty Japanese cups. The tea had been brought from Japan by Doctor Newman.

THE brothers and sisters of Elishu Baldwin, of Indianapolis, are endevoring to have his will, by which he bequeathed $60,000 to the Board of Foreign Missions and Home Missionary Society, set aside on the ground of insanity. In it he directed that a plain tombstone should be erected over his remains, with his name, age and date of death inscribed thereon, and the words: "Here lies a poor sinner—all unrighteousness. Perhaps God will have mercy. Let him do as he will."

MILITARY prisoners have been put under the same rules as regards remission of a part of their sentence in reward for their good behavior as are United States prisoners sentenced to confinement in State prisons or penitentiaries. By a recent order of the Secretary of War, men confined in the Leavenworth military prison, who have been sentenced to terms of confinement exceeding months, may have a deduction made of five days for each calendar month of consecutive good conduct from the term of their original sentence.

THE Grand Jury of Washington county, Ga., before whom the alleged insurrectionists have been on trial, presented a report on Friday, recommending the discharge of the remaining prisoners, and commending the Judge and counsel for the faithful performance of their duty. Judge Johnson then addressed the Grand Jury and citizens, advising the latter to acquiesce in the decision of the jury, and commending the people for the conservative and law abiding course they had pursued. All the prisoners not indicted were discharged, and the court adjourned until the regular term.

A GENTLEMAN in London has sued a neighbor for keeping a bantam cock that crowed in the morn at 4 o'clock so habitually and vigorously that the recovery of his wife, who was in delicate health, was retarded by the noise. The defendant submitted that he was strictly within his legal rights in keeping fowls, and that he could not prevent the plumed biped from chanting his sweet song. The Judge suggested to the defendant the propriety of abating the nuisance, and this the owner of the bantam undertook to do, consenting, at the same time to a nominal verdict against him, with 1 shilling damages.

MR. BLANTON DUNCAN gives, in the Louisville Commercial, an interesting account of the Confederate currency. He says the total issue never reached $350,000,000, and its depreciation was less than is popularly believed. He says the paper dollar was worth 85 cents in gold in November, 1861; 60 cents in May, 1862; 45 or 50 cents in November, 1862; 16 cents in July, 1863; 8 cents in November, 1863; 5 cents in May, 1864, from which period to the termination of the war it fluctuated, going up once to 6 cents, and only falling entirely as a medium in the last two months prior to the capitulation, when every one saw that defeat was inevitable.

THE sugar and molasses crop of Louisiana last year was one of the largest on record, 116,867 hogshead of sugar and 11,516,828 gallons of molasses, and this year's crop is expected to exceed it. A similar report is made of this year's rice crop, which is estimated at 104,963 barrels, and cotton will probably do as well. Louisiana, after some severe lessons, has found that blind partisan politics does not pay. It has been some time now since the people there made up their minds to devote their chief time to honest labor, and this is one of the good results. Louisiana formerly was an unfailing source of news—of riot, bloodshed and murder—but now she fortunately furnishes only items like the above. Happy, indeed, is the country that has no history.

THE election in California proves—if any proof of the fact were needed—that the "Independent Party" humbug is utterly exploded. The contest next year will, as we have often pointed out, rest between the two parties which are already historical. The last "Independent Party" offered Greeley and Gratz Brown to the people, and a few half-crazy editors tried to persuade everybody that there was no hope for the salvation of the country but in the election of those men. Since then they have been doing penance for their folly. The "Independents" of California were not a bit more deserving of confidence than those of Cincinnati, and it is a good thing that they have come to grief, even although the Democrats have been elected. All this helps to clear the field of rubbish for next year.

THE New Haven Palladium says that a mechanic in that city has invented a new method of propelling boats, by which he can obtain a speed of five miles an hour without any "wash" from the propeller. The boat has two keels parallel to each other, and between them an air-tight box, built in the bottom of the boat, into which air is forced by means of a small steam engine. The compressed air is conveyed to the top of the water under the boat, and allowed to escape on the surface of the water, the resistance it meets being relied upon for the propulsion of the boat. The two keels are intended to keep the compressed air from being distributed over too great a surface. The Palladium says that several satisfactory trips have been made in the boat (probably without load), and that the invention can probably be used to advantage on canals.

IN regard to Ralston's suicide Mr. Cilley, of Chicago, said to a reporter of the Inter-Ocean, "I remember having a conversation with Mr. Ralston on the subject of suicide. It was at a trial, in 1873, I think, when a heavy rise in mining stocks took place. Among those who gained by the rise was a Frenchman named Pioche, who, in a single day, made some $3,000,000 in stocks, and the next morning at an early hour, shot himself fatally. About the same time a man named R. B. Swan, connected with the San Francisco Mercantile Library Association, who had dabbled in stocks and lost, committed suicide by taking laudanum. I remember well talking with Mr. Ralston on the subject of these occurrences, and his remarking that a man ought to care more for his life under any circumstances than to do away with it. In this conversation Mr. Ralston deprecated with especial force the idea of suicide."

A BRITISH Parliamentary return gives a statement of the increase of wealth of Great Britain between 1814 and 1873. In 1814 the gross annual income from real estate, mines, quarries, canals and gas works was about three hundred millions of dollars. In 1844, after the establishment of the railway era, and railway earnings were included, the income from real estate had grown to four hundred and seventy-six millions; in 1864 to eight hundred and seven millions, and in 1873 to $1,065,000,000. A similar increase has been shown in the incomes from trades and professions, which have grown from one hundred and eighty-five millions in 1814 to nine hundred and seventy-six millions in 1873. These figures are of course only approximate, being based upon the English income returns; but a nation must be very wealthy whose people have an annual income of $2,041,000,000, especially when the average income from investments is not more than three or four per cent. a year.

Slaves of Business.

In our complicated modern life, a man may get together an enormous mass of property, and yet never become a king of business. There are kings and there are slaves of business, and it is not till a man has made a fortune that we can certainly tell to which of these classes he belongs.

But for one man who has the resolution to conquer a fixed habit of overwork, ten die of it in the midst of their days. It is not, I repeat, till a fortune is won that we can tell whether a man is master or slave; and this is particularly true of the present time, when a mere flash-in-the-pan, like Fisk, can get control sometimes of large masses of property. Of our rich men we can say by their hobbies shall ye know them. A few of the stupidest and vulgarest destroy themselves by luxurious living. Many destroy their children by indulgence and neglect. We had a case in New York, during the war, of a father who gave his son, aged twenty, $100 every Monday morning. Nothing, indeed, tests a rich man's manhood so much as the manner in which he deals with his children. To make a fortune is not easy, but to bring up a child to inherit it is very difficult. Here is the touchstone which indicates with almost unerring certainty whether a man is master or servant of his fortune. Is he master? Then he uses his wealth to make it a good thing to his children. Is he a slave? Then he permits his wealth to effeminate and sensualize them to make them vain, selfish and helpless. A man must be exceptionally wise and strong who, in the compass of one short lifetime, can acquire riches and learn the difficult art of being rich without doing his family any harm.—James Parton.

Mexican Beauties.

Ben Perley Poore writes from the city of Mexico: "It used to be said that the Mexican ladies began the day in black, on their knees in chapels, and ended their waking hours amid the blaze of dress and jewels in the family box at the opera. I think that the matin prayers are rather out of fashion, but an opera box is still an indispensable necessary of life. Social visiting is not common, but ladies are 'at home' in their opera boxes, where their friends call upon them between the acts. The moment the drop-curtain descends there is crackling of the wax matches in use here, cigarettes are lighted, and the gentlemen go the rounds of their lady acquaintances, who receive them courteously, coquettishly using their fans, while their lustrous eyes welcome favorite. A gentleman who has resided here for some time declares that if the Mexican ladies are not so variously beautiful as the women of northern lands, in whose veins the blood of many nations has mingled, they are most loveable creatures in spite of the uniformity of their national type. There is a degree of exquisite tenderness and an expression of affectionate sincerity in the faces of the Mexican women which instantly wins not only respect but the confidence of the gazer. The toilets we saw at the opera were elegant but not in any way gaudy, and at an operatic performance in any of our cities we should have seen much more of the wearers, although the Mexican ladies are almost all so stout that they can appear decolette without anatomical suggestions.

Decrease of Immigration.

The New York Commercial Advertiser finds cause for congratulation in the fact that there has been a large falling off in the tide of immigration. During the month of July, 1874, the total number of immigrants arriving at Castle Garden was 15,634, whilst during the corresponding period this year it has dwindled down to 9,266. The dullness of business of all kinds, and the prostration of the manufacturing interests have no doubt much to do with this decrease, as the opportunities of the immigrant for obtaining immediate or lucrative employment are much lessened. The class of immigrants now arriving is of a higher and better grade than that of previous years, consisting mainly of well-to-do mechanics or farmers, who, having means of their own, are not likely to become pensioners on the public. These will find homes and employment in the far West, where land is cheap and opportunities are abundant, but for that class of immigrants who seek large cities and lack means to start on their careers there is comparatively but little chance, as work is slack in the Eastern States, and there are already too many hungry mouths to fill. So that, on the whole, whilst the tide of immigration seems to have been checked, our contemporary thinks the country at large will be a gainer rather than a loser.

Vanderbilt's Boyhood.

The old Commodore was born on Staten Island. His family were Moravians. The old church is still preserved, but the homestead is going to decay. The owner will not lay out any money to put thing to rights. The barn is an old tumble-down thing, and stands a nuisance amid the improvements. Vanderbilt when a boy was far above his associates as he is now above the business men of this age. He was known as "Corneale." He was a slim, tall, daring, athletic lad, doing what no one else dare do. For a consideration he would row to New York on a dark, tempetuous night, when all but the daring boatman expected to see him go to the bottom. When a mere lad he earned $600 by putting a crew on board a vessel in the harbor in a storm. He owed his start to a daring feat. At the risk of life he rowed a man to the Battery, the man lying flat on the bottom of the skiff and not speaking on the trip. That man's father wanted a fearless man to run an opposition steamboat, and though years had passed away he came to New York and asked for Corneale, the daring boaman. Vanderbilt has no real estate in his own name except the house he lives in. It was conveyed to William for the consideration of $1 on the eve of the old man's marriage.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, Monday, September 6, 1875.

A more active day at the banks Saturday, attested the occasional spurts of business vigor that come even in the midst of depression. There is, however, more paper offering, and a better business doing. Opinions are divided as to whether this is a mere spasm of financial activity, or the beginning of the better times expected. It is well known that in the dry goods jobbing line, there is a positive and well sustained improvement in business, and it is believed that this healthful order of things will rapidly extend to other forms of trade. Pittsburgh is interested, to a considerable extent, in trade with the South. The new crop of cotton, according to present prospects, may be estimated at 4,250,000 bales; and the cost of raising it is estimated at 8@10 cents; so that, if the crop realizes 10@12 cents on the plantation, a profit about equal to that of ante-war years will be realized. There is, therefore, good ground for the growing confidence shown among our merchants in an improved trade with this ten or twelve millions of our population.

Upon a survey of the main conditions affecting trade, we feel justified in concluding that the results of the business of the Fall are likely to be more satisfactory than anything we have experienced since the panic. It seems quite likely that, provided no unforseen misfortune should occur, the feeling in trade circles will improve as the season advances, and that the trade of the latter half will be entire satisfactory. Buyers are at present universally supplying themselves with great caution; but, should it prove, as now appears quite likely, that cotton comes to market early, and that the price of $1 per bushel for wheat at the Northwest brings large supplies to market and high prices for pork similarly affect the trade in hog products, we should in all probability find the later orders from the West and the South very large, causing the season to wind up with much spirit and an improved feeling. —New York Daily Bulletin.

The volume of business, however, as compared with former dates, is generally higher than the croaking which seems to have become chronic, would lead people to believe who have not instituted examination as to the fact. There are numerous failures in various directions, some of which involve large liabilities, but the more numerous among them are small, and result more from gradual exhaustion of means by the maintenance of a style of living and other expenses not warranted by an inactive business. This is the natural purging of trade pursuits that invariably follows crises, and is the immediate precursor of a pristine health. We believe in an early improvement in business.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The National banks pay the National Government annually one per cent. on their circulation, one-half of one per cent. on their deposits, and one-half of one per cent. on capital not invested in United States bonds. These taxes amounted from 1864 to 1875 to $57,718,616.06. The banks have paid for licenses a tax of $5,322,688, and on incomes a tax of $5,539,289. These make a total of $68,580,595 of national taxes. The National banks are heavily taxed by State and municipal governments. Their stock, amounting in October, 1874, to $493,765,121, is usually assessed at its full value. The Comptroller of the Currency says that "there is no doubt that the rates of taxation of the National banks is greater than that of any other species of property."

California advices received by bankers to-day were generally encouraging, although no time was mentioned for the opening of the Stock Exchange and the resumption of business by the Bank of California. Kiernan's Financial News Agency has a dispatch from San Francisco, stating that the Bank of California's statement will probably not be ready for ten or twelve days.

Stocks were weak, and generally lower in early dealings, but afterwards became firm, and a recovery took place in some cases. At the call the market was firm. Later there was a falling of in prices, and the market closed dull and weak. Lake Shore declined to 56¼ and Harlem to 133, but the latter closed at 133½. Michigan Central fell to 62, and closed at 62¼@62½. Pacific Mail reacted to 36¼, and Western Union to 78⅞. St. Paul declined to 35⅞, preferred to 63, and Northwest to 39⅛. The other changes were slight. Included in the sales were 21,900 shares Pacific Mail, 19,600 Western Union, 6,700 Northwestern, 8,000 St. Paul, 7,200 Erie, and 33,600 Lake Shore.

LONDON, September 4—3 P. M.—To-day's Times, in its financial column, says: The firmness of the money market is continued, and of the discount business done at the market rate a large proportion of bills were negotiated at a higher figure. Corn was steady. Deliveries of English wheat and foreign wheat continue heavy. The provincial markets are mostly firm, with occasionally an advance in price on last week. The Hungarian wheat crop is said to be disappointing, but owing to the late harvest, there may be still some of the crop available for export. There is little further news regarding the foreign crop. The Mark Lane markets are without change from the dullness of many weeks. The sugar market continues depressed, and prices are tending downward.

DAILY REPORT OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, Sept. 4, 1875.

There is nothing particularly new to record in connection with the leading merchandise markets; business is very generally reported dull, while as regards values there are no important changes to which reference has not previously been made.

BUTTER—The market is quiet and devoid of any new or important features deserving of special notice; prices remain without quotable change. Sales of prime to choice, solid packed, at 23a25c. There is not much inquiry for any other kind.

CHEESE—There is no change to make in quotations, and trade is only fair, having been curtailed somewhat by the abundance of fruit; prime Ohio Factory, in a jobbing way, 11a11½c.

EGGS—In light stock, and fresh, guaranteed as such, may be quoted steady at 15a16c.

FRUITS—The market continues well supplied with Peaches, but prices, particularly for good, sound fruit, are fully maintained; $1a1,25 per box for good to choice. Apples quoted at $3a4 per bbl. Plums $3a4 per bushel. Blackberries, $1,25a1,50 per bucket.

FLOUR—The market continues quiet and unchanged; $7a7,50 for fair to choice brands of old stock, either winter or spring, in a jobbing way. The receipts and offerings of new flour have been small as yet, and mostly unsatisfactory in quality and condition.

GROCERIES—There is a very fair demand for Sugars and refined goods are reported firmer, although not quotably higher; our latest advices from Baltimore indicate that the Calvert Refineries will be closed for a time at least, in consequence of their financial troubles. Coffee is reported quiet at the seaboad, but unchanged. Stock in first hands in New York, Sept. 2, 51,163 bags; at Richmond, 3,400 bags; at Baltimore, 923 bags; at Hampton Roads, 10,565 bags, Afloat and loading for New York, 57,900 bags; other ports in the United States, 128,900 bags.

CATTLE.

The receipts this week, both of local and through consignments, were the largest we had to record for some time, and, as usual, the average quality was again common; the great proportion of the offerings consisted of common natives and Texas, and while there was a decline on all grades, the shrinkage, as might be expected, was greatest on common stock. Salesmen generally reported a decline of from ⅜ to ½ a cent on medium and common and ¼ to ¼ on good to prime beeves. The supply of common half-fatted cattle was, if we mistake not, the largest we have had this year, and notwithstanding the offerings of good to prime beeves were small, the heavy fall in the price of the former was not without its effect upon the latter, as shippers want but very few good cattle at current rates. There was a very full attendance of country buyers this week, and but for them, the market would have been much worse than it was, especially for common cattle, as we are dependent upon them to take about three-fourths of the offerings of this character. There is an increasing demand for Stockers, and we look for it to continue during the next sixty days, as there is plenty of pasture in the eastern part of the State and a scarcity of cattle, but the feeling is gaining ground that prime beeves must go lower within the next few weeks, although they brought almost as much this week at Chicago as ever. However, this grade of cattle has been bringing about as much at Chicago all this year as could be obtained at any other point, and we cannot understand how shippers can afford to pay the prices there, cost of transportation, commission, and other incidental expenses, and sell at the rates current in the eastern markets.

Of the receipts this week 247 cars were through consignments and 300 cars local stock, against 221 cars of through and 197 cars of local last week. Sales 4,542 head; ditto last week, 2,727.

AN IMPORTANT PROJECT—MOVEMENT TO DISPENSE WITH MIDDLE-MEN.

The Kansas cattle-breeders, who have hitherto sold their stock to Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago dealers, thereby enabling the latter to realize a profit by shipping cattle east, have resolved to dispense with this class of middle-men. Some of the breeders of Missouri, Colorado and Texas also favor the change. A deputation visited Buffalo a few days ago to ascertain the feasibility of making that city the headquarters for direct shipments from their farms and ranches. They propose in a few weeks to take some of the Buffalo capitalists and cattle and grain dealers to Kansas to show them their stock in trade and other resources. The movement is an important one, and if carried out successfully, will materially affect the cattle trade of the cities against which independence has been declared.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The most noticeable feature was the falling off in the receipts, which were considerably less than those of last week, and it was well for owners that such was the case, as with a supply equal to that of last week, prices could not have been maintained. The eastern reports, especially from New York, were unfavorable, and the demand was considerably curtailed in consequence, but in view of the very light supply, particularly of good, fat stock, sellers were enabled to hold their ground: in other words, to obtain last week's prices. Prime 100 lb. sheep quotable at 5½c; there was one bunch for which 5,90 was obtained, but it was very fine and weighed considerably over 100 lbs. Good Stock Wethers in fair demand at 4a4½. Jersey Ewes dull at $2a3 per head, according to quality. The great proportion of the Lambs offering were common, and for these the market was very dull.

QUOTATIONS.

Lambs, as per quality	4,75a5,25
Stock Ewes, per head	$1,50a2,50

HOGS.

There has been quite a reaction in the market within the past day or two, and it was not unexpected, as prices had been run up so high as to very largely curtail the demand. In the early part of the week and up until Friday, prime Philadelphia Hogs brought 9c, but, as might be expected, shippers were easily satisfied, they did not want many, and, as noted in our report of Thursday, a few cars over and above actual wants was all that was necessary to cause a reaction, as it did. Within the past 24 hours, there has been a decline of 25 cents on best corn hogs, and 30a35c on common.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

There has been considerable excitement in the market for the raw article within the past few days, and, since the date of our last weekly review, a sharp advance in prices has been established; the product has also stiffened up very materially, in sympathy with the raw article, although it is not so much excited, nor was the advance in rates so decided. There are various reasons assigned for the "spurt" in Crude, which, by the way, was generally unexpected, but the main one was a largely increased demand; Cleveland, it appears, has been buying freely all week, and New York and Philadelphia were not much behind, and with very heavy purchases, a good deal more being shipped out than is being produced, a light production, as compared with last year, and a very limited development, all contributed to bring about the marked change in the market to which reference has been made. The foreign outlook is favorable, as compared with this time last year; stocks at all the leading foreign ports are comparatively light, while the consumption is increasing, and an increased export demand is expected in consequence.

CRUDE.

The market to-day was less active, although the advance of Friday was maintained; immediate shipment was quoted this P. M. at $1,30a1,32½; "Conduit" certificates $1,10; "United," $1,11¼.

REFINED.

The market, if anything, was firmer than yesterday, and prices were a fraction higher; Baltimore and Philadelphia delivery, 11½; on Penna. cars here, 9¾; on Connellsville cars here, at 9⅝a9½c. It is estimated that not much, if any, more than one-half of our refining capacity is employed at the present time, but if the market continues to improve, some of them will soon start up again, as our refiners are willing to work on a very small margin.

OIL BARRELS.

There is a fair demand, but no change in prices; countries, $1,15a1,25; city make, $1,35a1,40.

RECEIPTS AND SHIPMENTS.

Receipts Crude from January 1st to date, 715,416 barrels; same time last year, 1,287,350 barrels; exports refined from January 1 to date, 442,924 barrels; same time last year, 756,123 barrels. This does not include the shipments by the Connellsville route for the last two weeks.

THE IRON TRADE.

New York.

American Pig.—Occasionally a sale of fair magnitude is reported at the furnaces, which tends to momentarily give holders a more hopeful tone, but the feeling as quickly subsides, and the market relapses into the same dull and lethargic condition as has characterized this branch of industry for so long a time. The production keeps steadily going on, makers being rather cautious about blowing out, as the expense would be so heavy to start again should the necessities of the trade require it. The offer from a railway company to supply material, ore, etc., to be refunded in the product of the furnaces, is not generally looked upon with favor, and it is thought will not be generally accepted by makers. Within a week or ten days about 5,000 tons good No. 2 and under have changed hands at furnaces, particulars kept private, but generally supposed to be on pretty liberal terms. Sales in small lots foot up 500 or 600 tons. We quote: No. 1 Foundry, $26a27; Foundry No. 2, $24a25; Gray Forge, $22a24; White and Mottled, $21a22.—Iron Age.

BRITISH IRON MARKET.

A cable dispatch, under date of Sept. 1st, says:—Scotch Pig.—Since our last cable report was published a good deal of speculation has been indulged in on the Glasgow market; consequently prices have been, and are, considerably sent up. The following are makers' quotations:

Coltness No. 1	75s 6d
Gartsherrie No. 1	71s 6d
Glengarnock No. 1	69s 0d
Eglinton No. 1	63s 6d

Manufactured Iron.—The market continues dull, with little business doing. Best Staffordshire Bars are quoted £9 10sa10.

Rails.—The market rules dull, with little doing and weak prices. Welsh are quoted £6 10a6 15s.

PHILADELPHIA.

Sales.—One thousand tons No. 1; one thousand tons No. 2; eight hundred tons Gray Forge; one thousand tons Old Rails at $27 here; seven hundred tons Scrap at $31, and three hundred tons American Plate Scrap at $35; also four thousand tons Rails, to go South and West, and large sales of Gas Pipe, equal to five hundred thousand feet.

Tobacco Crop.

A correspondent of the Hartford Times writes regarding the Connecticut tobacco crop:—The farmers are jubilant over the prospects of the new crop, which bids fair to exceed any crop yet produced. The season has been all that could be desired for the production and development of a fine leaf. Tobacco seems to grow spontaneously everywhere this year, and in the valley a poor piece of tobacco is a very rare exception. The growth exceeds that of 1872, and the crop has more body and has reached a maturity unknown in that year, and even if subjected to the unparalled weather of that year during the curing process, would not be likely to produce such disastrous consequences as followed the long muggy spell in the fall of 1872. It is without doubt the largest and heaviest crop ever harvested, although the acreage is not equal to that of other years. Indeed, I doubt if it exceeds that of 1874.

Wool.

BOSTON, September 4.—During the past week the market has been quite dull, and fine wools are neglected. Good XX Ohio and Pennsylvania fleece cannot be quoted at over 45c, and a good extra Ohio at the same price. Midium Ohio is in fair demand, and has been selling at 46a46½c for fair average lots, up to 50c for choice selections. The sales of the week have only been 84,000 lbs Ohio and Pennsylvania, mostly medium fleeces. In Michigan fleece very little has been done, the sales ranging at from 41c to 45c, as to quality and condition. Good average lots of Michigan could not be sold at over 42½a43c. Combing and delaine selections are in steady demand, and all lots offering have been taken at previous current rates. Notwithstanding the good demand for combing for some months past, no advance has been established, and there is no prospect of any improvement even in this description. 150,000 lbs have been purchased during the week, principally at 55a59c for combing, 48a50c for fine delaine, and 40a45c for unwashed. Very choice selections would bring an advance on these figures, but the quotations above represent the market for average lots. Pulled wools are dull, all the sales of the week comprising only 54,000 lbs, and 50 cents has been the outside price for choice Eastern supers.

L. A. WELSH, Sergeant Signal Service, U. S. A.

THE stage of water last evening, according to the marks, was 12 inches, but there was at least 18 inches in the channel; however, the stage of water is a matter of no consequence now, navigation being suspended. Clear and pleasant, and some of the "knowing ones" predict a dry fall.

THE Arlington was to have left Cincinnati for New Orleans on Saturday.

CAPT. JAMES REES, JR., since he reached home, has improved very much in health. He is now able to get around the house.

THE Fannie Tatum has withdrawn from the Pittsburgh and St. Louis trade, in consequence of the low stage of water in the Upper Ohio.

THERE have been no arrivals or departures for several days, and there are no boats due; all the regular packets have hauled off in consequence of low water.

THE John L. Rhoads was aground at Cox' Riffle's about 48 hours; she left here on Monday, and did not reach Wheeling until Thursday evening. It is not likely she will have any further trouble.

FRANK HOTING, an old and well-known steamboat mate, has gone into the hay and feed business; his firm is Irwin & Hoting, No. 119 Water street. We hope Mr. Hoting will be successful in his new field of operations.

THE twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. John A. Wood and wife was celebrated at the family residence, in Chartiers township, on Friday night last. There was a large attendance and the occasion was a very pleasant one.

THE work of clearing the levee of pig iron continues, and if it is pushed on as vigorously during the next few weeks to come, as it has been during the past few, steamboatmen will have no further cause of complaint in this respect.

PILOT W. B. FORD, who committed suicide at Cincinnati and an account of which was published in the GAZETTE of Friday, was not pilot Wm. Ford who formerly lived in Allegheny city and removed to Cincinnati some years ago.

CAPT. R. C. MASON, of the Upper Missouri steamer E. H. Durfee, who has been on a visit to his family in Brownsville, Pa., expects to leave for Yankton this evening to rejoin his boat. Capt. M. contemplates bringing the Durfee out of the Missouri this fall; possibly she will come to Pittsburgh.

WE hear nothing further in regard to the proposed packet line between here and Cincinnati; if, as is claimed by those who advocate it, there is money in it, in addition to being of the utmost importance to the business interests of this city, it should not be allowed to die, notwithstanding the present time is not favorable to new enterprises.

THE New Orleans Bulletin, under date of August 31, says:—Capt. Geo. Hazlett was shot and seriously wounded by William Doughty, at Matamoras, Mexico, on Saturday. Both are well known here, Captain Hazlett having run the Flirt in Red River for a number of years, and Doughty being known as a ship carpenter. We hope Capt. Hazlett may survive.

HOME NEWS.

Pittsburgh Female College. Fall term opens September 8. Charges reduced.

Overcome by the heat.

On Friday afternoon a man named Robert Scott, who is employed as driver at Graff & Hugu's foundry, in Allegheny, was overcome by the heat and fell insensible to the ground, at the stable on Pennsylvania avenue, Allegheny. He was removed to his home near by and medical aid summoned. Last evening his condition was considered to be very favorable.

Fell Down.

The frame dwelling owned and occupied by Mr. Connelly, and located in the hollow at Soho, between Fifth avenue and Forbes street, fell down yesterday morning, and was totally demolished. It had been raised about eighteen feet, so as to be even with the new grade on Forbes street, but the props under it being insecure, it collapsed. No one was hurt, but the furniture was destroyed as well as the house.

Journalistic.

The Hibernian has been changed to "The Catholic Journal," and comes out in a very handsome new dress of type this week, which has very considerably improved its appearance. The paper has also been changed from eight pages to sixteen pages. It is filled with reading matter, original and selected, which bears the marks of having passed through the hands of a practical journalist such as its assistant editor, Mr. James P. O'Neill, is known to be.

Death From Suicide.

On Saturday morning Mrs. M. G. Little was found in her bed at a boarding house at No. 73 Liberty street, unable to speak. A physician was immediately summoned, but the lady only lived about fifteen minutes after his arrival. She left a note directing to whom her property should be given, which led to the belief that she had committed suicide by taking laudanum. The Coroner's jury rendered a verdict accordingly. Deceased was about eighty years of age, and was respectably connected.

The Military Inspection To-day.

The inspection and review of the Sixth Division, N. G. P., takes place to-day, at Friendship Park. Among the organizations that will take part are the Fourteenth, Eighteenth and Nineteenth Regiments, Knapp's and Hutchinson's batteries, and the Jefferson cavalry. It is said that the new South Side cavalry company will also make its first appearance. The infantry will be transported to the park via the Pennsylvania railroad, and the review will commence promptly at nine o'clock. This is the last inspection that will take place previous to the assembling of the troops at the Centennial next year, and it will be very close and thorough.

Boating Items.

The scull race on the Ohio river, at Wheeling, on Saturday evening, between Frank Denmarsh and Ed. Powell, both of this city, a distance of three miles for $300 a side, was won by Denmarsh in 22:25¼. He came in three lengths ahead of his opponent.

Coulter and Morris met on Saturday night at Henderson's saloon and each paid in the final instalment of $200 a side. The stakes are now complete and the race will undoubtedly take place. Wm. Jackson, Sr., has been chosen referee.

The Columbia boat club has entered a number of men for contests in the annual Amateur and Professional Regatta which takes place on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week at Seneca Lake, near Watkins Glen, New York. The prizes, consisting of money and goblets, are liberal and handsome.

Military Reunion.

The Association of the One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Regiment, P. V. met on Saturday night in City Hall, and the Committee on Arrangements reported the following programme which is to be observed at the reunion on the 17th inst.

Meet at headquarters at Municipal Hall at 1 o'clock P. M., to proceed to Lafayette Hall by a route to be hereafter designated. Business meeting of the Regimental Association at 3 o'clock, P. M., at headquarters, to march as escort to guests to Lafayette Hall. Exercises to commence at 8 o'clock P. M.; first, reveille by the band; second, music by glee club; third, prose by Col. E. Jay Allen; fourth, national airs by the band; fifth, oration by John H. Kerr; sixth, music by glee club; seventh, long roll; eighth, grand march to banquet hall; ninth, banquet; tenth, music and toasts; eleventh, tattoo and taps.

Invitations to be present have been extended to Generals Warren, Humphreys, Allabach and Sweitzer who commanded the corps, division and brigade to which the regiment was attached, and they are expected to be on hand. The final meeting of the Association, previous to the reunion, will be held next Saturday evening.

NOT YET ARRESTED.

The Murderer Green Still at Large.

William Green, who murdered Samuel Marshall, at Mansfield, last Thursday evening, has not, as yet, been taken into custody. A man answering to his desription called at a house near Noblestown for his breakfast yesterday morning, and intelligence to that effect was immediately telegraphed to Mansfield. Upon the reception of the news a party left in pursuit of the murderer, but nothing has been heard from them since their departure.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

A Coal Miner Killed by a Falling Rock.

A fatal accident occurred at the coal mine of O. N. Fife in Shaler township on Saturday, which resulted in the death of Herman Koner, a miner, whose place of residence was about half a mile from Shaw's mill. It appears that the unfortunate man had gone to work in the coal bank at an early hour, and, while digging away, a rock fell on him from above, which failed to kill him instantly. One of Mr. Fife's hands, while on his way from the house to the stable about seven o'clock in the morning, heard a pitiful noise coming from the mine, and in going thither found the man in a dying condition. Being unable to release him, he went for assistance, but when he returned Koner was dead. The Coroner held an inquest on the remains in the afternoon, when a verdict of accidental death was rendered. Deceased leaves a wife and family.

AMUSEMENTS.

Trimble's Varieties.

This place of amusement will be favored with a new list of attractions during the present week. The manager, Mr. Fred. Aims, knows how to please his patrons, and to this end has secured the services of Miss Kate Montrose, the Thompsons, Barney McNulty, and a host of others, who will make their appearance each night. The programme presented will be entirely new and should draw large houses.

Fifth Avenue Comedy Theatre.

At the Fifth avenue Comedy Theatre, will be presented to-night, for the first time this season, the emotional drama of "Marked for Life," in which Mr. Sid C. Francis will appear as the principal character, supported by a good company. Besides this, a long list of performers will appear in their several specialties. Among the new attractions are the Arabian Brothers, Minnie Gray, Jennie Wade, and others. The present week promises to be as successful as any of its predecessors.

Academy of Music.

The inauguration of the season at the Academy of Music will take place this evening, when Mr. John A. Stevens will assume the chief role in "Robert, of Woodleigh," supported by Carlotta and a full company. This theatre has been thoroughly renovated and refurnished during the summer, and its re-opening together with the presentation of this beautiful Virginia romance will be welcomed by a large number. Reserved seats are on sale at No. 670 Fifth avenue. Governor Hartranft is announced to be present to-night. W. D. Moore, Esq., will deliver an inaugural address.

BACK TO SCHOOL.

Farewell to Vacation—The Beginning of a New Term.

The bells in the school house towers will ring out merrily this morning to call the juveniles back again to collegiate halls. It will not be an unexpected, and perhaps not generally an unwelcome call. It rings the knell of vacation, it is true. The delights of play, unshaded by a thought of study, vanish as the fleeting shadow of that which once was real, but which has become only as a pleasant memory; yet the volatile spirit of youth welcomes a change always, and perhaps if the recesses of the juvenile mind could be reached, there would be found a real gladness that vacation is over, and a welcome for the companionship of teachers and associates in the school room again. It matters not that the feeling may be but transient, and that the novelty of school will soon have lost its charm; for the time, at least, it is a real pleasure, though it may last only for a day.

During the vacation which has just closed, the hours have not been allowed to slip by without a thought of the teachers and pupils who were to come again to their school home. The Directors of our local boards have had an eye to the beautifying of the school rooms, and the work in every case has been well and prettily done. In some of the buildings the repairs and renovations and alterations have been quite extensive and very materially transform the appearance of the rooms. As they appear now—fresh as May flowers—the school buildings of our two cities are in every way creditable to the people, and attest that in this direction our community stands fully abreast of the times.

So the bells this morning will call over thirty thousand of the brightest and best of our community to pleasant recitation rooms, and to the kindly care of teachers who will make the rugged pathway to knowledge as smooth as possible for tender juvenile feet.

NEW BESSEMER WORKS.

Enterprise in Dull Times—A Complete Establishment—The Finest Bessemer Works in the World—An Inspection in Force.

The development of a new manufacturing enterprise, especially one that adds a fresh feature to our steel manufacturing industry, is of great importance to the people of Pittsburgh and vicinity. On Saturday last, however, certain works were finally put in operation which have an interest, in their line of manufacture, to the entire world. We refer to the Edgar Thomson Steel Works, which manufacture Bessemer Steel rails. The entire process, from the transformation of common pig iron into Bessemer steel, and then into rails, is carried simultaneously forward at this very complete establishment. When in full operation, it will add more than 225 tons of steel rails per day to the volume of manufacture already in process, an amount that will exert a perceptible influence on the markets of the world.

HISTORY AND WORKS.

The name of these works,—Edgar Thomson,—betrays their origin. While Mr. Thomson, late President of the Pennsylvania Railroad was still living, these works were planned, and a company formed. With his death changes occurred, until at present the stockholders are as follows: Thomas and Andrew Carnegie, William Coleman, John Scott, President of Allegheny Valley Railroad, W. P. Shinn, David McCandless, David Stewart, H. Phipps, Jr. and Andrew Kloman. Of these the Carnegie Brothers, whose business shrewdness has been rarely equaled, are large shareholders. The works are located near Braddocks, on the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, but contiguous to the Connellsville Railroad. They are thus contiguous to coal and to transportation. One benefit of this is seen in the fact that they have fine coal delivered at their furnace doors at 44 cents per ton; and the cost of coal for a ton of steel is less than $1.50. The works comprise an irregular series of brick and iron buildings, of the best material and workmanship, the whole cost, thus far, reaching about $850,000, and comprising, according to the testimony of experts, the most perfect establishment of the kind in the world. To this complete affair, on Saturday last, a party of about two hundred gentlemen was invited. A special train was provided, and Superintendent Robert Pitcairn gave his genial presence as chief director of the expedition. Arrived at the works, Mr. Shinn, of the Allegheny Valley road, took charge of the press reporters, and explained the works. We preferred to see for ourselves, and so examined, inquired, and noted on our own hook.

To those who may be interested in the technical description of the works, we append the following from the printed circular of the Company:

"The buildings now erected are as follows: Cupola house, 107 feet long, 44 feet wide and 46 feet high. Converting house, 129 feet long, 84 feet wide and 30 feet high. House for blowing engines, 54 feet long, 48 feet wide and 36 feet high. Boiler house, 178 feet long, 40 feet wide and 18 feet high. Producer house, 90 feet long, 46 feet wide and 26 feet high. Rail mill, 380 feet long, 100 feet wide and 25 feet high, with a wing 100 feet long, 35 feet wide and 17 feet high. Office and shop building, 200 feet long, 60 feet wide and 18 feet high. A coal and iron house, 40 feet long, 20 feet wide and 10 feet high. The producer house and rail mill have iron side columns, with timber side framing. All the others are wholly of brick, and all, without exceptions, have iron roof frames and coverings.

"The converting machinery comprises 3 cupolas, 5 feet clear diam., and 40 feet high; 4 spiegel cupolas, 2 feet diam., and 40 feet high; two 12 ton cupola ladles upon scales; two 5 ton converters, 6 feet clear diam. by 15 feet high; 12 crane ladles for casting, and a full equipment of ingot moulds and flasks for bottom casting. Ample oven capacity is provided for drying spare bottoms for the converters, the flasks and ladle stoppers. A crusher and a mixing mill of approved patterns are placed in the cupola house, in which also is ample room for storage of refractory materials required for immediate use.

"The steam machinery comprises 16 tubular boilers, 5 feet diameter by 15 feet long, each having forty 4½ inch tubes, a separate grate, 5 feet 6 inches wide by 7 feet long, and a separate chimney, lined with brick, 2 feet 6 inches clear diameter, by 75 feet high from the ground.

"The hydraulic machinery comprises.—One duplex pressure pump, with 25 inch steam cylinders, 9 inch water plungers and 24 inch stroke; and one pressure pump, 20 inch and 7 1-4 inch by 15 inch stroke; a complete distributing apparatus, all the valves of which are connected to a common platform; two accumulators, 16½ inch diameter by 9 feet stroke; a ladle crane, 15½ inch diameter by 6 feet stroke; four cranes, 13 inch diameter by 9 feet stroke, three for lifting ingots, and one for the bottom casting flasks; two cylinders, 18 inch diameter by 9 feet stroke, with racks and pinions for rotating the converters; one cylinder, 12 inch diameter by 24 inch stroke, fixed upon a car, for lifting and removing the bottoms of the converters; and two lifts 9 inch diameter by 27 feet stroke, for raising materials in the cupola house.

"The Heating Furnace Plant comprises 20 gas producers in five blocks, a sheet iron cooling tube leading overhead to the brick gas flue, and 6 Siemen's furnaces, each 8 feet wide by 20 feet long, inside of the walls. There are two chimneys, each 6 feet clear diameter, and 98 feet high. Three of the furnaces will have hydraulic machinery for charging the ingots, as brought red hot from the converting house, and also for drawing them for rolling.

"Rolling Mill Plant.—The ingots are bloomed in a 30 inch 3 high mill, which is fitted with feeding rollers, driven by an independent engine, and with hydraulic cylinders for moving the feeding tables, for turning over the ingots, and for moving the middle roll to vary the sizes of the grooves as required. A 'telegraph' leads to the hammer, and a steam crane piles up the ingots in the yard whenever it becomes inconvenient to take them direct to the reheating furnaces, for the rail train.

"A 23 inch 3 high train, with 3 sets of rolls, is used for rolling rails. A line of driven rollers lead to the saw carriage, and a second line of driven roller leads to a 60 feet hot straightening plate. Space is provided for a swinging saw for cutting double length rails. The hooks for handling the rails and rolls will be fitted with a power lifting apparatus to secure greater rapidity of working. The usual appliances are provided for finishing and shipping the rails.

"WATER SUPPLIES.—The water supply is brought from the river, a distance of 1800 feet, through a 20 inch glazed sewer pipe. Entrance piers are placed at the river bank, and the pipe throughout its whole length is placed at such a level that the water will flow at the lowest stage of the river into a well near the works. Two duplex pumps, each 20 inches by 7 1-4 inch by 15 inch stroke, are placed at this well, and are supplied from the main steam pipe, and will be regulated by valve in boiler house moved by a float. An 8 inch pipe discharges from these pumps into a 20,000 gallon tank, from which supply pipes are led to the pumps in the works."

CHEMISTRY AND MAKING OF BESSEMER STEEL.

Before proceeding to describe what we saw, we append a statement of the chemical facts on which the process of manufacturing Bessemer steel is based. Pig iron contains 2½ per cent. of silicon, and 4 per cent. of carbon. By blowing air through this, while in a molten state, we oxydize the silicon first, and then the carbon, and also a small portion of the iron. Then nine per cent. of spiegelizen, which is a pig iron, containing twelve per cent. of manganese, is run into the iron, previously treated as above stated. This manganese, having the highest affinity for oxygen, removes the oxide of iron, previously forced from the bath, and by adding a small amount of manganese and carbon to the bath, it becomes steel. This operation, although it occupies but a few moments of time, accomplishes a molecular change in the whole mass of six tons, heated. This swift result is due to the high temperature maintained, which allows great chemical changes in the iron to take place with wonderful facility. Pure iron, such as the bath substantially was,—except a little oxide of iron,—is commercially worthless, and quite immalleable. The addition to this, however, in bath, of one-fourth of one per cent. of carbon and one-half of one per cent of manganese, gives it all the properties of cast steel. This is the philosophy of the Bessemer process of steel making.

Without aiming to give an idea of the magnitude of the works, we will now seek to convey an idea of the manner in which the above chemical changes are practically accomplished. The central feature of the arrangements for making steel consists in an egg shaped affair, resembling a vast mortar, or a Krupp cannon, abridged in length, apparently suspended over a pit, within which the receiving ladle is operated. This egg-shaped affair is called a converter, and will hold six tons of molten metal, when lying on its side, without allowing the tuyres to be covered. Above and beyond it are the cupolas where the pig iron and spiegel are prepared. When invited to witness operations, we ranged around the pit, and soon a molten stream of iron came pouring down the narrow gutters and was directed into a round opening at the smaller end of the converter. Immediately after the required amount was admitted, a blast of air, ranging in force from 25 to 40 pounds to the square inch, was started through the tuyres, and the converter gradually raised to an upright position. This was accomplished by a little boy standing on a platform in a distant part of the room, and moving levers which regulated the hydraulic powers used for all purposes for which force is needed. The rush of the air, at first, created a pyrotechnic display, both brilliant and alarming. When the converter was raised, the pressure of the air prevented the molten metal from escaping. The color of the flame that escaped from the open mouth of the converter gradually changed, till it was white and clear,—and after the blast was on some ten minutes the converter was lowered again, and another operation was in order.

The spiegel had been prepared a little too soon, and had chilled at the mouth of the vessel containing it, and in which it had been weighed, and a few minutes delay occurred in opening the vent. This done and the metal came pouring down, a white, hissing stream, and was directed into the converter. As soon as in, the work was done. A great iron pot, or ladle, was swung around under the converter, and the molten steel poured in. It was then swung around to where six upright, square receivers were, with a round distributor, and the metal poured in, and each receiver covered with earth, and the ingot left to cool.

THE DEPARTMENTS.

We have not the space for an elaborate description of all we saw, and we will give, in brief, an idea of the entire affair, and then refer specially to the rail mill. The works are divided into departments. 1. The Bessemer, described above, where the ingots are made. 2. Rolling department, where the ingots are rolled into rails. This is in two divisions; one where ingots are rolled from fourteen inches square to seven inches square—each ingot making a bloom for three rails, sixty pounds to the yard. The second division is that of rail making. 3. The Boiler department, containing sixteen locomotive boilers, each of 150 horse power. 4. Producer department,—where coal is converted into gas to be used in heating furnaces,—no coal being directly used for this purpose. 5. Water Supply department, and 6, Machine Shop. All these are simply perfect in their way.

In the rolling and rail department everything worked with amazing smoothness, despite the newness of the machinery. The rough ingots were transformed into rails, the ends sawed off and the rails neatly packed, just three minutes being given to each rail. There was also here a self-regulating or automatic set of rollers, the invention of James Moore and the late Geo. Fritz, of the Cambria works, and to which improvements have been added by A. L. Holley and John Fritz. It receives a mass of 2,200 pounds of steel, and, by the simple movement of a lever, the machine changes the iron from roll to roll till its work is completed. Of the testing a rail, by twisting it till it had been made into a corkscrew, the dinner, at which hungry journalists and ravenous manufacturers did yeoman's duty, the after-dinner speeches, we shall say little. The speaking exercises were suddenly terminated by the announcement of Mr. Shinn that "Time's up," but was resumed when the train was in motion.

It should be said that these works were built under the direction of A. L. Holley, who introduced the Bessemer steel works in this country, and has superintended the erection of mills at Troy, Bethlehem, Harrisburg, Johnstown, Joliet, North Chicago, and is now erecting one at St. Louis. He does not hesitate to declare that the Edgar Thomson Works are the most perfect in the world. He is a young, nervous, energetic man, of less than forty years. We realize we have not done justice to these works, and need only say in conclusion that Pittsburgh owes a debt of gratitude to the men who, in these hard times could and did put $1,500,000 capital into a Bessemer steel mill, making it the most perfect in the world.

RAILWAY TRAVEL.

A Large Number of Persons Returning from Watering Places—The Amount of Business Done at the Union Depot—A Large Amount of Travel—The Number of Trunks the Baggage Master Handles in a Day.

During the months of June, July and August a large number of our citizens, as is the usual custom, left the city for a summer saunter at the different watering places. Notwithstanding the closeness of money and the general complaint of dull times, Pittsburgh has her full share at the fashionable places of resort. Indeed the season which is drawing to a close has been a remarkably good one for hotel proprietors at these points, which is evidenced by the fact that even our own city had more than double the number of representatives at the seaside than was at first be supposed.

The ushering in of the month of September always brings about the return of these pleasure seekers, as men must come home to prepare for the fall trade, which usually opens about the middle of the month. A large number, however, remain from two to four weeks later, having nothing to call them homeward. It is with much reluctance that these individuals leave the fresh bracing air of the seaside, to settle down again amid the smoke and dust of our city.

Saturday a reporter of this paper took a tour through the offices and baggage rooms of the Union Depot to learn what amount of business was being done, and it was ascertained that during a single day not less than three hundred trunks came into the baggage room from Cape May, Long Branch, Saratoga, and other summering places. In most cases, a single individual did not have more than one or two trunks, so judging from this, the number of arrivals Saturday would reach from one hundred and fifty to two hundred. Most of the travel among this class of persons is from the East, but few coming in from any other direction.

The amount of business done at the depot is immense at the present time. Although merchants may complain of dull times and many manufacturers of a poor market for their wares, the railroad companies are reaping an abundant harvest. The amount of travel is more than was expected even by the most sanguine. Cars going out in all directions are crowded daily, and in some cases extra coaches are attached to regular trains. Besides this, a second section is often sent out, the first train being unable to accommodate travelers. The local trade is much better than it was a few weeks ago, and the through passengers largely exceed in numbers those of a fortnight since. This indication is regarded by some as a premonition of a livening up of business this fall, and a consequent return to greater activity, in most branches of trade. No doubt this showing is attributable, to a certain extent, to the fact that western merchants are just at this time beginning to start east to purchase goods for the fall trade. If this be true, the business of the railroads has just commenced and will keep up for about a month yet to come. The amount of freight shipments westward have not increased to any extent, but in about ten days a decided improvement is expected.

As indicative of the immense amount of travel a few facts may be of interest. Our reporter interviewed the baggage master at the Union Depot, who was exceedingly courteous, and produced the figures from his books in support of his statements. In going into the western baggage room it was learned that about two hundred trunks had been sent to Chicago, St. Louis and intermediate points. By far the greatest number of patrons of the railroad companies are between here and New York and other eastern cities. On making inquiries at baggage room No. 2 our scribe was surprised to note the difference in the number of trunks handled. He inquired, "How many trunks have you received and sent out from here to-day," of the baggage master, to which the reply, "about a thousand, I should judge," was given. But the gentleman continued, "I can tell you you exactly if I take a glance at my books," and over he went to his desk and with his finger ran over the lines which contained the numbers, hastily, and in which he was an expert. As soon as the count was finished he looked up and said, "a few over eight hundred; say that number and we will throw in the balance for good measure, and we will know we have not exceeded the pile." Out of this lot, as we have already stated, three hundred were from the different watering places, but the balance belonged mostly to through passengers going both East and West.

This improvement in travel has only been noticed within a few days, and from what could be learned of railroad officials and those who professed to know the general drift of such matters, it was thought that the present week would be a lively one on all the through lines. The season of vacation is about at an end with business men who have been away with their families during the heated term, and western merchants who understand the wants of customers, and who pride themselves in being able to "buy closely," are beginning to make their way to the eastern markets in person, for the purpose of "making a strike," as they call it.

BEATING THE HUNTERS.

An Interesting Side Issue to a Fayette County Fox Chase.

Uniontown is famous for the number of fox hunters it turns out, the frequency with which chases take place, the number of hounds that follow Reynard, and the eager interest taken by the hunters in the chase. On Thursday night last about twenty-five gentlemen, residing in and near Uniontown, with an equal number of dogs, started from the Summit House, intent on waking up a fox. In the party were Wm. Boyd, proprietor of the Summit House, Thomas Boyd, C. H. Rush, Alfred Newton, Dr. Hill, Harrison Wiggins, and a number of others whose names we have forgotten. After leaving the summit they went to the residence of Mr. Wiggins, a few miles distant, where the party received accessions of men and hounds, and then proceeded on its way. The dogs were not long in starting a fox and they at once gave tongue but in a few minutes the music of their baying was interrupted by a number of shots from a gun. Ascertaining that it was the sons of a man named Cromwell who were shooting at the dogs, for what purpose could not be learned, unless from a spirit of general "cussedness," Messrs. Wm. and Tom. Boyd concluded to go up to Cromwell's house and endeavor to put an end to the firing if possible and let the remainder of the party continue the chase. When the Boyds reached the house they were attacked by Cromwell, his wife and two other women, all of whom, with clubs in their hands, belabored the two men to the best of their physical ability, and injured them both pretty severely. Wm. Boyd in particular was quite seriously hurt, his body being badly bruised and an ugly scalp wound inflicted upon his head. Concluding to make a virtue of necessity, and allow no further liberties to be taken with their person, they quit the defensive, assumed the offensive, and in the twinkling of an eye Tom. Boyd piled the women on top of each other in one corner of the house, and Wm. Boyd got away with the old man. They then quit the premises. The balance of the hunters knew nothing of the affair until their return from the chase. Wm. Boyd's wound on the skull was dressed by Dr. Hill. On the day following Cromwell and his female adherents went to Uniontown and made information against the Boyds for assault and battery. They were arrested, gave $200 bail for court, and then instituted cross suits against their prosecutors, charging them with assault and battery with intent to kill. The Cromwells were also taken into custody and furnished the necessary amount of bail.

MUNICIPAL INTERESTS.

Important Committee Meetings on S[illegible]urday—The Forty-third S[illegible] Weight Pipe—[illegible] Bill o[illegible] [illegible]r. Hartupee's Big [illegible] Extras—A Dispute Over a Stony Point—$8,000 at Stake—Interest on Penn Avenue Bonds—How it is to be Paid—City Survey Matters.

The Water Committee met on Saturday night, and in some respects the session was similar to the interesting meetings of former days. A matter that was to have come up, but which the contractors concluded had better not be aired too much, was the laying on Forty-third street, by D. & R. J. McGaffin, of water pipe deficient in weight to the extent of twenty per cent. The contract required every twelve feet of pipe to weigh five hundred and twenty-five pounds. They safely passed the critical eye of the Pipe Inspector, but Civil Engineer Morely happened to visit Forty-third street while the pipes were on the ground and ready to be laid. He discovered that there was a deficiency in thickness, material, and consequently strength, and at once notified the contractors of the condemnation of the entire lot. The matter was to have been brought before the Water Committee, and would have been but for the M'Gaffins incontinently retiring from their position. They addressed a communication to the committee offering to put down the pipes and receive pay as per weights invoiced by the foundrymen, which of course would be considerably less, as the deficiency amounted to about twenty per cent. Subsequently, and may be an half hour before the meeting of the Committee, this compromise letter was withdrawn—the writers excusing themselves on the ground that as Morley, the Civil Engineer, was inexorable, the best plan would be to comply strictly with the contract. Contractors seem to require a long time to learn that Engineer Morley will be satisfied with nothing but the very closest adherence to all the specifications of a contract.

The first business taken up by the committee was the consideration of matters connected with the old water works. The pay roll for August, amounting to $8,246.08, was approved. The unexpended balance on hand is $23,841.04. A bill of the South Side Water Company of $5,333.34, for water used in fire plugs for the year ending next April, occasioned some discussion, and, as the appropriation of this committee is getting low, a sub-committee was appointed to confer with the Water company to see if it will not agree to wait for its pay until the next appropriation is made. The bill of Felix Negley for several hundred dollars due him for discount on city warrants, with which he was paid for coal in place of cash, was again taken up, and after a lengthy debate indefinitely postponed. Mr. Negley gave notice that he would institute proceedings for the recovery of the amount. The claim of A. J. Murray, ex-Assistant Clerk, for $65, alleged to be due him for extra services, was received and filed.

Water Extension business being next taken up the following August estimates were approved: Hiland avenue reservoir, $10,414; Herron Hill reservoir, $4,000.32; pay rolls—office, $1,742.84; foundations, $324.88; engineers, $169.55; street hands, $40.46. An item in the Herron Hill estimate of $2.10 per yard, made by the contractor for removing what he called solid rock, was strenuously objected to by Engineer Morely, who said the solid rock was nothing but loose rock and that contractor McIlhenny was, under the contract, entitled to but 41 cents per yard for removing it. It requires no mathematician to observe that the difference between 41 cents and $2.10 is very considerable, and when it is further stated that the number of yards is about five thousand, it can be easily ascertained by a little figuring that the difference between Mr. McIlhenny and Mr. Morely amounts to over $8,000, a sum well worth fighting for by the contractor. The item was finally referred to the Reservoir Committee in connection with Mr. Morely.

James H. Platt, Jr., agent for Hill's fire-plug, presented a communication asking for the privilege of introducing his plug, promising to furnish one, which should not be paid for until it proved satisfactory to the committee. The proposition was accepted and a plug is to be taken on trial. Mr. J. H. Walter, contractor for the Hiland avenue reservoir, said that he would like to know whether he was to be required to make certain repairs to defective stone work or whether the city would undertake the job. The question was referred to a sub-committee.

The plan of Mechanical Engineer Lowry for carrying the rising mains over Negley's run was recommended affirmatively to Councils, and that fifteen feet of ground be purchased or appropriated for the same. The pipe is to be supported by four brick piers, and they will be located about forty feet south of the Allegheny Valley Railroad. This arrangement will cost about $3,000—a big saving over the iron bridge, price (28,000), or the stone viaduct at $40,000, and it will be equally as effective.

At the request of Mr. Slagle, solicitor for Andrew Hartupee, the latter's bill of extras and other matters were referred to a sub-committee for adjudication. The former said that much correspondence had taken place without any result and in his opinion all differences should go to a sub-committee for settlement. The items in the bill of extras foot up nearly $100,000 for a hundred and one different things ordered and otherwise. Ten cents a pound for castings is the general tone of the whole, and only a limited number the Mechanical Engineer is willing to approve. In getting this matter referred to a sub-committee Mr. Hartupee has gained a point for which he has been most persistently contesting ever since the discovery of the cracked valve chambers, and that point is the removal from the jurisdiction of the Mechanical Engineer of matters over most of which he has exclusive jurisdiction and with which the committee has little or nothing to do. Heretofore the committee has uniformly refused to refer to sub-committes, arbitrators, uninterested parties or anybody else, any questions which are within the province of Mechanical Engineer Lowry. On Saturday night the latter stated the circumstances connected with the difficulty and said that Mr. Hartupee had not acted square with the city.

The above comprising all the business before the committee, it adjourned.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

The meeting of the Finance Committee, on Saturday afternoon, in the Controller's office, was attended by eleven members. Their deliberations were presided over by Mr. Aiken. The object of the meeting was to recommend to Councils a plan by which to pay off the interest, which will soon be due, on bonds issued under the Penn avenue act. Bond Clerk Diehl submitted the following statement of the amount of bonds issued in accordance with the above named act, and the interest they bear.

The following communication from the City Treasurer was also read.

To the Finance Committee of the Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

GENTLEMEN:—There is now in the Treasury something over $120,000, which belongs to the Municipal Sinking Fund, and there is no debt maturing within the next three or four years to the payment of which this sum and its accretions can be applied. It will shortly be necessary for the city to issue its six per cent. bonds, bearing interest payable in gold, to meet interest falling due on street improvement bonds, for which no assessments will be made this year. Would it not be wise to direct by ordinance that the money now lying idle in the Sinking Fund be invested in the gold interest bonds about to be issued? If this were done the city would have not only an absolutely safe investment, but would receive a greater amount of interest in gold than is likely to be received in currency from the city depositories. The bonds are sure to advance in price, and should the money of the sinking fund happen to be required for the redemption of the maturing indebtedness, the gold interest bonds can be readily sold, the proceeds applied to that purpose, and the Sinking Fund benefited to the amount of the advance. This, it seems to me, would not be diverting the money so invested from the purposes for which it was raised, and I make the suggestion for the consideration of the committee.

Very respectfully,

C. L. MAGEE, City Treasurer.

Controller Snodgrass demurred to this proposition, citing the section of the Wallace act which provides a tax of not less than one mill nor more than three mills for the extinguishment of the bonds and funded indebtedness of the city. He had no objection in the abstract to the plan of the City Treasurer, but concretely he doubted the propriety of the Finance Committee dabbling in stock jobbing operations, more especially as the advance in the value of the bonds was problematical—and certainly the scheme would be illegal.

The Treasurer's letter was received and filed, and the committee decided to recommend to Councils an ordinance providing for a temporary loan, running four years and bearing six per centum interest in gold. This is the third loan made for the purpose, the first being for $250,000 and the second for $125,000.

The bonds of the following tax collectors were approved: D. Beck, Ninth and Tenth wards; N. J. Mathews, Second; W. Lowry Nineteenth; R. H. Lee, Sixth; C. Bollner, Thirty-fourth; W. Sprague, Twenty-first; John Fitzsimmons, Thirtieth; J. Mitchell, Seventeenth; J. W. Douglass, Thirty-third and Thirty-fifth; R. B. Phillips, Twenty-second; L. H. Hunter, Thirty-second; J. N. Jarrett, Twenty-sixth; C. R. Leonhauser, Eighteenth; W. Thompson, Fifteenth. The bond of Isaac Reese, as weighmaster, was also approved.

CITY SURVEYS.

The Survey Committee met on Saturday afternoon in the Common Council chamber. The August pay roll, footing up $995, was approved. Ordinances were ordered for a change of grade on Ridge street, for the location of Chestnut street, from the Saw Mill Run railroad to Carson street, and for the location of Spruce street.

Mr. Breed, from the sub-committee on the remonstrance against the removal of the bridge on La[illegible] avenue, crossing the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the petition for and remonstrance against the change of grade, asked for the discharge of the committee. He said that if we looked ahead forty years there would be a bridge necessary at the crossing, but at present no such necessity existed. He favored a change of the grade, as asked for, and yet disliked recommending a crossing at grade.

Mr. Aull stated that the Pennsylvania Railroad intended to build a bridge at this point in accordance with their grade.

Mr. Breed then moved that a committee be appointed to confer with the railroad officials as to the change of the location of the bridge at Lang avenue, and examine the ground and report some plan of action. This was adopted, and Messrs. Breed, Shaltenbrand, Chislett, O'Neil and Boucher appointed as the committee.

Other unimportant business was transacted and the committee adjourned.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

An action of more than ordinary interest was called to the attention of Judge McKeenan, of the United States Circuit Court, on Saturday. The status of the case is about as follows:

On the 11th of August last, application was made to Judge McCandless, of the District Court of the United States, to permit the plaintiff to issue proceses on the judgment obtained by Beach against McCandless in the Court of Common Pleas No. 2 for the county of Allegheny. The application set forth that on the 27th day of May, 1874, suit was instituted in the District Court, (now Court of Common Pleas No. 2), by Black against McClelland, for injuries done by McClelland to the petitioner in punching out his eye with an umbrella. The petitioner further sets forth that on 12th of January, 1875, he recovered a verdict for $3,850 against McClelland as damages; that on the 15th of January, 1875, a motion for a new trial was made, and on the 2d of April, 1875, after argument, this motion was refused; that on the 6th of May, 1875, judgment was entered on the verdict; that after the verdict and prior to the entry of judgment, (to-wit, on the 20th of March, 1875,) said McClelland filed his petition in bankruptcy, and was on the same day adjudged a bankrupt. The petitioner prayed the District Court of the United States for leave to issue process from the State Court for the collection of his debt. The case was argued by David Reed for Black, and C. S. Raymond for McClelland, before Hon. Wilson McCandless.

Judge McCandless made an order granting leave to issue the execution as prayed for, when an appeal was taken to the Circuit Court by the defendant, which was argued by the same counsel on the 28th of last month. In an opinion delivered by Judge McKennan, on Saturday, the decision of Judge McCandless was sustained, and at the instance of Hon. David Reed, a capias execution was issued out of the Common Pleas Court No. 2 for the amount of the verdict.

BILL IN EQUITY.

A bill in equity was filed in the Common Pleas Court No. 1, Saturday, by Maurice Wallace vs. John O'Connell, praying for a dissolution of the firm of O'Connell & Wallace, lately engaged in the coal business at No. 6 Liberty street. The orator sets forth that each partner was to furnish an equal share of the capital necessary for the transaction of the business, and that the respondent has collected book accounts and appropriated them to his own use. He further alleges that he fears he will have to pay $300 or $400 of the indebtedness out of his own private estate. He therefore asks that the respondent may be compelled to render an account of all the moneys collected, that an equitable distribution may be made.

CAPIAS ISSUED.

A suit was brought in the Common Pleas Court No. 1, Saturday, to recover damages for alleged slander by Geo. W. Shannon vs. John Moorhead et ux. The alleged offense consists in the publication of a report reflecting on the character of the complainant. A capias was issued.

COURT BREVITIES.

The Criminal Court was in session a short time on Saturday, but transacted no business of special importance. The September term of this Court will open to-day, with Judge White on the bench.

An action in ejectment was begun in the Common Pleas Court No. 1, Saturday, by Wm. McElhenney et al. vs. John Hope et al., for the recovery of a tract of land in Mifflin township. A summons was issued.

A suit for alleged trespass was entered in the Common Pleas Court No. 1, Saturday, by John R. Dougherty vs. Addison Arthurs and W. J. McIlwaine, to recover damages to the amount of $400, which the plaintiff avers he sustained by a certain levy made by defendants on his goods at his residence on Wylie avenue. H. G. Smith et ux. brought an action in the same Court vs. McIlwain and one Maginn to recover $114 worth of property, which they say is in possession of the defendants. A summons was issued in each case.

A New Fire Engine.

That every village of 1,000 inhabitants can afford to have. There are about 175 now in use, and pronounced by all who have used them second only to a steamer used by a paid fire department and having an abundance of water. The superiority of this engine consists in its simplicity; it dispenses with complex machinery, carbonic acid gas being both the working and extinguishing agent. It is always ready—no steam to be raised, no hose to be laid, the gas generated the instant wanted, and in half the cases the time thus saved is a building saved. The fluid used is thirty times as effective as water, and being the only agent that will extinguish burning oil, tar, &c. A few men can handle it, and the stream being under control of pipemen, no damage is done. It smothers, but does not deluge a fire, and the stream can be forced 100 feet, and a continuous stream for hours can be thrown. In economy it costs about ½ as much as a steamer with its necessary appendages. Such is the Babcock Chemical Self-Acting Fire Engine. The Babcock Mfg. Co. are also manufacturing tanks to be placed in the basement of buildings (or in oil refineries) to which pipes are connected, running over buildings, and at each story a hose attached, and so constructed that the tanks can be put under pressure from any floor and a stream thrown in 10 seconds. These can be furnished at a cost of a few hundred dollars; also 3 wheel, one tank Warehouse Engine, and portable Fire Extinguishers furnished at low prices at 58 Wood street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Philosophy of Disease.

The philosophy of disease is a subject which is well worthy the attention of mankind, but is, unfortunately, more generally neglected than any other under heaven. Decidedly the most important fact that an examination of it discloses, is that, in nine cases out of ten, the originating causes of disease is debility, either general or local, and that the earliest manifestations of its approach are identical with those which evidence a lack of vital power. Such being the case, it is perfectly clear that tonic treatment is what is required in the first instance. As an invigorant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has received the most positive endorsement from eminent physicians, and has long occupied a foremost rank among standard proprietary remedies. Its properties as an alterative of disordered conditions of the stomach, liver and bowels, and a preventive of malarial diseases, are no less renowned, and have been accorded professional recommendation, equally emphatic.
